PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28.—

Leaping from his plane when it went into a spin and crashed on the roof of the old Exposition Building, in the Point of Pittsburgh's "Golden Triangle," Melvin Garlow, 27-year-old air mail pilot, narrowly escaped death today in a daring parachute jump.

Garlow had just left Bettis Field, near here, bound for Cleveland with a cargo of air mail when his plane went into an unexplained spin. Unable to gain a tenuous grip on safety, Garlow jumped from the plane a few minutes before it crashed onto the building. He landed nearly a block away and was unhurt, save for a shaking up.

The plane was badly damaged as were several parked automobiles in the vicinity of the building, which were struck by bits of the shattered wings and propeller.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Shortly the Christmas shopping rush will start, now that Thanksgiving is over. It is expected that stores here will select presents for dear ones. So the stores are fast preparing—in fact, are prepared—for the visits they anticipate.

Seems though there are some pretty mean folks in this world all right. Last night the News was informed that an out of town friend who came to New Castle to attend a show at a local theatre, parked his car on North street near Mill street, and upon his return, discovered his side curtains and rods had been stolen. Some people have a crude sense of humor; a cold night and a long return trip ahead for the driver.

Next Monday will be the last day of the small game season and from then on, rabbits and birds will get a respite from the war that has been waged against them. It will be Armistice Day for them for another year.

Just one year ago tomorrow, the lowest temperature recorded during the winter season last year, was observed, the temperature falling to 44 below zero. It never got lower than that the rest of the winter, which was one of the mildest in years.

A far-from-home Idaho motorist was in the city yesterday; his car was seen parked on North Mercer street.

Shortly the New Castle Lions club will make public its plan for safeguarding the blind folks of the city through the inauguration of a uniform cane guide system. A certain group of sightless persons there may be who could visit the downtown alone were they guaranteed some degree of safety. The cane plan will do this, and motorists and pedestrians will be helped.

SCHOOL BOARD FACES TREMENDOUS TASK IN PLANNING FOR BUDGET

One of the most unlovely jobs imaginable at the present time is being a member of the board of school directors, and being a member of the committee in charge of making the preliminary budget for the year of 1932-33.

The directors are faced with the stern necessity of getting enough money to operate the schools and yet keep the tax levy within its present bounds, 16 mills. Nothing is impossible, of course, but this particular piece of work seems to be closely approximating the impos-ible. If it is done there must be some drastic cuts made without too much regard for the cause of school efficiency.

Over a Million
The school budget in New Castle is no insignificant sum. For the year of 1931-32 it totaled $1,157,246, of which almost a round million dollars came from taxes. There are other sources of income, one of them being the state appropriation, which was $131,000. Another source is tuition from other schools.

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn, firemen of the Second ward station and several city officials tested out the city's newest piece of fire-fighting apparatus today.

The huge American La France engine, purchased for the Second ward station at a cost of $6,000, was given a thorough tryout in that section of the city. The Second ward men drove the new truck.

Councilman Clayton H. Reeves, superintendent of the city's safety work, was a passenger during the inspection.

Can Hunt Deer In Lawrence Co.

State Game Commission
Says Every County In State Is Open

DEER NUMEROUS
IN THIS COUNTY

Lawrence county hunters who are afraid they are not allowed to shoot deer in Lawrence county need have no fear. Lawrence county is just as open as Clearfield or Potter counties. There are no closed counties in Pennsylvania this season. You shoot your deer where you find it. On the spot, if he has one.

The game commission has handed down a ruling to the effect that deer of either sex may be killed which meets requirements of the law as to size and age, in any county in Pennsylvania.

There are considerable deer in Lawrence county.

Hunters Asked To Help Relief Work

Local hunters who are going deer hunting next week are appealed to by the Mayor's Relief committee to turn over any surplus venison or bear meat which they may get.

Last year, many deer were turned over to the committee and the meat was cut up and distributed to the unemployed of the city. It is hoped that a liberal supply will be received this year.

Arrangements have been made with Adolph Lang to take care of the task of cutting up the animals, and hunters who secure deer and who will be able to give all or a portion of the meat are asked to do so.

Additional contributions received today have brought the total in the relief fund to $2,517. There have been 72 monthly pledges amounting to $901 per month made so far. City Treasurer, L. W. McClung, who is chairman of the Relief fund states.

Those who have not yet contributed are asked to fill out the attached coupon and mail or bring it to the city treasurer's office.

Stormy Session By Legislators Now Looked For

State Solons Enjoying Several Days of Rest Will Return To Capital Monday

READY TO START
ON FOURTH WEEK

Expect Further Action By Group Of House Leaders Opposing Pinchot's Plan

By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Nov. 28.—With members of the Legislature prolonging the Thanksgiving Day season into a week-end holiday at their homes, quiet prevailed at Capitol Hill today.

Political leaders characterized the interlude as the lull before the storm. The General Assembly, called into special session to speedily draft Gov. Gifford Pinchot's 15-point unemployment relief program, will convene again Monday night with two opposing relief outlines and countless individual bills before it.

Atmosphere Tense
Thus, the fourth week of the special session, with little accomplished, will get under way in an atmosphere of tense bitterness and suspicion. Many members, openly hostile to the Governor's tax program, decline to divulge their position on the "unemployment" tax—less relief plan leaving the enactment of relief measures as far from accomplishment as when the Assembly was called to order three weeks ago.

Monday night's session is expected to bring further action on the $27,500,000 relief plan suggested by a group of House leaders in opposition to Governor Pinchot's $129,000,000 proposal. Several administration bills are included in the foundations for the new relief structure. These are minor measures, however, involving only voluntary relief contributions and the issuance of property bonds.

May Compromise
The suggestion has been advanced in several quarters that if sponsors of the new program finally decide new revenue will be necessary to carry out its relief provisions, a one-cent per gallon tax be placed on gasoline for fifteen months. The Governor's plan is to tax gasoline two cents per gallon for a two-year period.

Committee meetings Monday afternoon will precede the meeting of the General Assembly. At these meetings, plans are expected to be made for the drafting of bills covering the substitute program.

Sub-committees from the Senate finance and appropriations committee and the House committee on appropriations will meet to consider the substitute program and the report of the public hearing last Tuesday when Pinchot cabinet officers testified to the necessity for enactment of the Governor's program.

Mayor's Relief To Meet Monday

Committee Will Meet In Council Chambers To Talk Over Arrangements

Members of the Mayor's Relief committee have been called to meet in the city council chambers, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, by Chairman James K. Love.

The work of the committee has now been started, and a large number of families are receiving assistance. The committee will be able to check up on the needs for the winter from the amount of help that has been given out so far, and will have a more intimate knowledge of what will be required.

JAPANESE CRITICIZE SECRETARY STIMSON FOR REVEALING NOTE

for this reason alone Japanese authorities were unable to see "why he flew into such a fulmination."

"Secretary Stimson's statement is not only unfortunate, but his manner of making it is even a more serious matter. It contains serious accusations against Japan and against Japanese motives."

The government is expected to issue a formal statement repudiating all the "allegations" in the Stimson communication after hearing from M. Debiuchi, Japanese ambassador to Washington.

Stimson Stands Firm
Washington, Nov. 28.—A direct question of war was raised today between the American State Department and the Japanese Foreign Office over what Japan did or did not promise concerning the extension of Japanese military operations toward China.

Confronted with a Japanese foreign office statement which took him vigorously to task for saying that the Japanese march on China was in direct violation of the pledges given the American ambassador in Tokyo by Baron Shidehara, the foreign minister, Secretary of State Stimson said today that he "stood pat" on it.

Stimson declared the Japanese foreign office, however, was "entirely misinformed" concerning some of the things he was alleged to have said. Some of the statements attributed to him by the foreign office, Stimson said, he never uttered.

Stimson appeared taken back by the sharp and vigorous tone of the foreign office statement.

"All I can say about that," he said, when confronted with the statement at his press conference, "is that you gentlemen have the record of what I said yesterday. From that you can see for yourselves that the Japanese foreign office has been entirely misinformed, not only on what I said yesterday, but on some things I have never said."

Stimson intimated that he had been more than usually discreet in the handling of diplomatic exchanges and threw the whole blame for the Japanese attack upon him to erroneous information received by the Japanese foreign office.

Autoists Must Watch For Canes

Blind, Armed With Colored Canes, To Have Right Of Way

City Solicitor Robert White today commenced drafting an ordinance which will give blind men the right of way over traffic at street intersections in this city. The fact that the pedestrians are blind will be denoted by canes, colored red and white, which are to be presented to the approximately 75 blind persons. The presentation will be made by the Lions club which annually holds a holiday party for the blind.

PARIS PEACE MEETING FILLED WITH TUMULT

speakers arose, such a hub-bub was created that they could not be heard and after three hours of this the conference came to a forced close.

The Paris dispatch states that police were busy until an early hour today at the Trocadero Palace breaking up fist fights and establishing order following a three-hour riot which brought to a tumultuous close the International Disarmament mass meeting of the union of League of Nations Associations.

The meeting was organized as a preliminary to the world armament conference scheduled for next February, but all speakers who tried to talk about disarmament were bowled down.

More than 6000 persons were massed in the hall during the demonstration. The crowd also refused to hear former Premier Edouard Herriot of France, who presided over the meeting and kept up an uproar when the other foreign statesmen on the program came to the rostrum.

Eight Seeking Permits Here

Firms and Individuals Seek State Permission For Hauling Work

TO HAVE HEARINGS IN NEW CASTLE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 28.—Eight New Castle firms and individuals today filed application for public convenience certificates as a result of the Public Service Commission's decision to place more stringent regulations on the freight and merchandise hauling business in New Castle.

The applicants were: A. L. Kildoe Transfer Company, H. J. Riley E. F. Fickel, George A. and Archie P. Dewberry, Wallace Transfer Company, W. H. Cooper, and Julius W. Garlocky, trading as the Pennsylvania Transfer Company.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, of New Castle, represented all eight petitioners.

The commission will hold hearings on these and similar applications in New Castle, beginning December 15. An investigation was started more than a month ago when existing certificate holders in New Castle complained to the commission that other firms were hauling without certificates. As a result, the commission ordered all transfer firms in that city to file applications.

The certificate asked would permit the carriers to haul freight and merchandise "anywhere within the city of New Castle and long distance points upon demand."

eral gas stations, and to having a revolver in his possession. He was sentenced to serve from 2 to 3 years in the Western penitentiary.

In answer to questions of Judge Chambers, Maynard admitted that he had previously been arrested and served time for the larceny of an automobile at Raleigh, N. C. He had escaped from a prison work gang in North Carolina in August, 1931.

He had been arrested on a previous charge of larceny in North Carolina. He was sentenced today on three charges of larceny, all sentences being alike and to run concurrently. In the firearms case he was sentenced to pay costs.

Go To Huntingdon.
William Nygard and Vilho Maki, who were implicated in the theft of guns from the New Castle armory, were each sent to the Huntingdon reformatory school. It was shown that Nygard had been paroled from the school some time ago and that Maki violated a parole. Henry Ruhs, who was implicated in the same case, was paroled for three years, in view of the fact that he had furnished important information to the commonwealth and had not been in previous trouble.

Other Sentences.
Robert Leasure, selling liquor $200 fine and costs and three months to the Allegheny county workhouse.

Herbert F. Steller, breaking and entering, one year fine and costs and from six months to one year in the county jail.

Paul Murphy, breaking and entering, one dollar fine and costs and from six months to one year in the county jail.

Joseph F. A. Maurowski, possessing liquor, $25 and costs and three months to the county jail.

Drunken Driving.
Clarence Samuels, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, $100 fine and costs and four months to the county jail.

David Dicks, operating car while intoxicated, was paroled on payment of $100 and costs, having been arrested on October 31.

Gets Jail Sentence.
F. E. West, former manager of an A. & P. store on Grant street, was charged with larceny by servant, was given 4 to 8 months in the county jail, to date from October 27, the time of his arrest. It was claimed that West was $194.75 short in his accounts with the store. He had expected to make up the amount but was unable to do so. One of the members of the A. & P. organization was present and stated to the court that there was no disposition on the part of the company to prosecute the case, if the money was restored.

John Talley, manufacturing and possessing liquor, $100 fine and costs and three months to the workhouse.

George Vailowan, larceny, $1 and costs and from three to six months in the county jail.

Robert Harris, larceny, was given from one to two years in the Western penitentiary.

Samuel R. Brady, fraudulent conversion, $1 fine and costs and six months to county jail.

SCHOOL BOARD FACES TREMENDOUS TASK PLANNING BUDGET

districts, which will approximate $22,000 this year. Interest on deposits, sales and refunds total about $11,000. From the tax levy of 16 mills it is estimated that $873,611 will be derived this year, and from the special five-dollar per capita tax, about $119,835.

For the budget for the coming year the directors seem to be on the horns of a dilemma. Two vital factors must be considered. First, the automatic increase in operating expenses, and second, the possibility that there will be a reduction in the amount of taxes paid in both years vitally upon the budget problem.

Due to the provisions of the Education act, passed in 1919, each teacher receives an increase of $1.00 per year for eight years after the first year of teaching. This amounted to $14,000 last year. The Lawrence school was ordered closed and this would have reduced the increase to about $9,500. Later the school was put back into service. The automatic increase next year will probably be no less than it was this year and this will mean $14,000 over and above the total for salaries, which for the year 1931-32 is $977,143.

Cuts Made Before
In arriving at the budget for the present year the board made some drastic cuts. It had already eliminated the kindergarten schools and the summer schools, cutting off quite a large sum. Nothing else can be cut from these sources for they are eliminated entirely.

For the year 1931-32, the current year total $61,730, and general salaries, which include administration costs, $30,245. The total salary list for 1931-32 is $769,119, which accounts for approximately 75 per cent of the budget.

Of the other 25 per cent, $20,500 went to the state retirement fund, a compulsory expense; $18,700 went to the sinking funds, another thing that cannot be cut, for it provides for the redemption of bonds due and the payment of interest on bonds in existence; $30,000 was allowed for exonerations and this will probably run higher.

This left a comparatively small amount for running expenses. Text books must be bought and this amount was placed at $18,374. There cannot be supplies such as pens, ink, paper, tablets and the other sundries. This account took $28,973. There will always be repairs to plant and this account took $34,432. Coal must be purchased for the furnaces and the New Castle schools use about 5,000 tons. For this account $21,350 was allocated, but may not all be used, due to an unusual price gotten on coal this year.

Other items of expense are: $5,045 for water, $15,075 for light and power, $1,678 for telephones, $5,380 for insurance, $12,000 for collectors' commissions, $3,680 for miscellaneous items, $1,467 for new equipment and $500 for workmen's compensation.

Difficult to Reduce
Thus the school board is faced with the necessity of reducing an almost irrefragable minimum. They have chiseled away at various accounts until some of them are on the danger line already.

They are determined to keep the tax levy within the 16 mills already assessed. It is a job well calculated to grow new wrinkles in human brows, but the board members are facing the task with courage and determination.

The budget will not be adopted until early in the spring, but it takes several months of preliminary work and this preliminary work is now under way.

CAN HUNT DEER IN LAWRENCE CO.

Lawrence county, estimates running as high as 40. Out near the Jordan game farm a number of them have destroyed crops this summer, and it is not unlikely that some hunter will get his deer without leaving the county.

There have never been any legal deer killed in this county, but they can be killed this year between December 1 and 15. Now the question is, who will kill the first one?

Even yet you can't tell whether Mr. Hoover will have the next Congress at his back or on his hands.

Three Killed As Trains Collide Near Indiana, Pa.

Two Railroaders Are Burned To Death, Third Man Fatally Injured In Wreck

(International News Service)

INDIANA, Pa., Nov. 28.—Two men were burned to death and a third fatally injured today when the locomotive of a livestock train crashed into the rear of a coal train on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Tunnelton, near here.

The Dead:
J. J. Shearer, 46, flagman; R. O. Libengood, 50, brakeman; and Thomas McIntyre, 54, Conductor, all of Blairsville, Pa.

Riding In Caboose
All three victims were riding in the caboose of the coal train. McIntyre was hurled into the Conemaugh river by the force of the crash while Shearer and Libengood were cremated in the blazing caboose.

McIntyre was rushed to a physician's office at Blairsville but died enroute. The other two bodies were charred almost beyond recognition. Rescuers were unable to extricate the two men from the burning car. Three cars of coal were derailed.

school, recently destroyed by incendiary fire. Plans called for a one-story frame structure 24x34, and 12 feet high. No cellar, no furnace, no furnishings, and plastered one coat.

When the time came for the opening of bids at the Hillsville school house, the room was crowded, and the autos parked outside made the grounds resemble a county fair. County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, was present and took part in the checking of the bids.

While it was found that F. C. Thompson was low bidder the contract was not awarded. The specifications must be checked over and the bids must be submitted to the department at Harrisburg for approval before the contract can be let. This was owing to the fact that there was an emergency case, and advertisements had not been inserted in the usual way. It is expected that approval of the state department will be received by the middle of the week when the contract will be let.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Pritchard Funeral.
Funeral services for Mrs. Joan Pritchard, wife of William Pritchard, Electric street, were held Tuesday afternoon from the First Congregational church, with the church filled with sorrowing relatives and friends and she was completely surrounded by beautiful floral tributes.

Rev. Roes T. Williams, pastor of the church, conducted the services and interment was made in Oak Park cemetery. Pallbearers were John Davis, William Powell, Thomas Thomas, David T. Evans, James Taylor and Richard Thomas.

Aaron Flickinger
Aaron Flickinger, former resident of 1316 Huron avenue, this city died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Ezra Floor, Silver Lake, Indiana, on Thursday at 4 p. m. after a short illness.

Mr. Flickinger had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Charles Garrett of Pulaski, Pa., for some time past and went for a visit with his sister about two weeks ago. He was taken suddenly ill during his visit there and his death followed.

His death comes as a shock to his many friends here and in Pulaski, where he was well known and highly respected. The body arrived in Sharon last night and was taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Garrett of Pulaski.

Mr. Flickinger was born in Ohio but spent practically all his life in the vicinity of New Castle and Pulaski. His wife preceded him in death about nine years ago. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

He leaves the following children, Mrs. Paul Bixler, West Middlesex, Pa.; Miss Harriett Flickinger, of New Castle; Mrs. Charles Garrett of Pulaski and the following brothers and sisters, George Flickinger, of New Wilmington, John Flickinger, of Warren, O., and Mrs. E. E. Blake of Volant, also seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday, November 30, 1931 at 2 p. m. at the home of his daughter Mrs. Charles Garrett, Pulaski, Pa. Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Herma G. Mayne.
Mrs. Herma G. Mayne, widow of William A. Mayne of 17 West Falls street, passed away Friday evening at eight o'clock in the Jameson Memorial hospital following an illness of two weeks due to complications.

Mrs. Mayne was born September 30, 1850 in Madison, Wisconsin, and was 81 years of age. She had been a resident of this city for the past fifty-seven years and was widely known and held in the highest esteem by all those who knew her. She was a member of the Christian Missionary Alliance.

Her husband preceded her in death eight years ago. She leaves the following children, Charles B. Mayne, Fred C. Mayne and Mrs. Lydia Sowash of this city and Mrs. Lydia Johns of Berea, Ohio, also one son, Frank Van Slyke of Portland, Oregon. Five grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday, November 30, 1931 at 2:30 p. m. at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Flora Sowash, 659 Spruce street, with her pastor, Rev. E. C. Anderson in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Rev. Blew's Funeral
Funeral services for Rev. Edward Blew were held Friday afternoon from the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church, which pulpit he had filled many times.

Rev. Alfred Hill of Sharon, a lifelong friend of the deceased, preached the funeral sermon and spoke in a most masterly fashion from the text, "I shall be satisfied when I shall awake with Thy likeness." He paid high tribute to Rev. Blew, as a preacher, a scholar, and a Christian gentleman of the highest type.

Six grandsons, William Blew, Edward Teece, New Castle, Herbert Teece, Ellwood City, John Blew and Norman Blew, Pittsburgh, and Edward Blew, Tusculum, carried the beloved grandfather to his last resting place in Oak Park cemetery, where he was laid in the family plot.

Mr. Boul's Funeral
Funeral services of the late Chas. J. Boul of 511 East Sheridan avenue were held Friday November 27, 1931 at 2:30 p. m. at the family residence, with Rev. F. E. Stough in charge and assisted by Dr. C. B. Wingerd. Two

MINERVA CLUB GUESTS AT LUNCHEON EVENT

The Minerva Luncheon Bridge Club members were delighted to entertain on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Wm. Keeney, Erie avenue. A delicious menu was served at a table beautifully appointed in the seasons tones with a bouquet of chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece. Mrs. Stephen O. Lewis, of Akron, O., and guest of the hostess assisted in serving.

Following the hours were spent informally in bridge, and the trophies for honors were presented to Mrs. Joe Rick and Mrs. Clarence Undergraff.

Special guests of the occasion included Mrs. William Colgan of Greenville and Mrs. Lewis. They adjourned to meet again in two weeks, the place to be given out later.

Family Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Wesley D. Remley, their sons and daughters and families were entertained at a lovely 6 o'clock Thanksgiving Day dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klingsmith, of West Washington street.

The large "U" shaped table was decorated with baskets of golden flowers and golden tapers in crystal holders. Thirty guests, including four generations of the family were present, and a delicious turkey dinner and its accompaniments were heartily enjoyed. Mrs. Klingsmith was assisted by her sisters, Mrs. William H. Morgan, Mrs. Bruce Love, Mrs. H. Clyde Brest, Mrs. Ella Anderson and Mrs. Harry Remley. Cards and music were enjoyed later in the evening.

Those present from out of town were Mrs. Walter Van and daughters Marjorie Jeanne and Barbara Lou and Mrs. Ella J. Anderson of Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Morgan and son of Homestead and James Remley who is spending the vacation at his home from Indiana State Teachers College.

A. F. F. Club
The A. F. F. Club associates were pleasantly received on Friday evening in the home of Miss Minnie Dufford, North Crawford avenue.

The hours were spent informally with bridge, and the prizes for honors were won by Mrs. Francis Drake and Mrs. Ray Muder at the close of the contest. Later, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Theodore Nelson and the Misses Viola Dufford and Jean Dufford, served a delicious collation. Names were drawn at this session for the exchange of Christmas gifts which will take place on Friday evening, December 11 at the home of Mrs. Albert J. Tidball. This will mark their annual holiday event and will also be the date of their next regular session.

As a special guest, the members had Miss Malinda Drake.

Fall flowers were used effectively throughout in the room and table decorations.

Kandy Klub
Kathryn, Betty, and Gladys Weinstein, Edgewood avenue, were hostesses to the members of the Kandy Klub, at a Thanksgiving party in their home Friday.

Games and stunts were played with each member taking a part, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Girls Club
The Girls club will be entertained on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock luncheon in the home of Mrs. George Winter on Highland avenue.

SCHOOL GROUP PARTY AT WINTER'S HOME

Thursday evening a group of High School young people were entertained in the home of George Winter, Highland avenue, with nine couples enjoying dancing and music on the third floor of the home.

These home for the Thanksgiving vacation included "Bud" Kannonberg, Harry Shannon and Charles Nolan.

After several hours of informal good times the young folks enjoyed a lunch at a country inn.

Lodges Gather
Mrs. Florence Frost gave the speech of welcome Wednesday evening as the members of L. L. O. I. 129 were hostesses to the members of Lodges 200 and 24 for the evening.

Miss Beryl Morgan pleased with a vocal number, and Mrs. Theodore Morgan sang a popular number. Helen Humme pleased with a number of piano selections. Leanna Morgan and Lou Morgan sang.

Mr. William Marsh gave a number of harmonica numbers and Blodwin Davis had a reading, after which Mrs. Martha Morse made a few remarks and Mrs. Agnes Guthrie gave a short recitation. Mrs. M. Kaufman had a reading, which brought the program to a close.

The after dinner program was spent informally at cards and bingo and the committee headed by Mrs. Margaret Shaner, served refreshments.

The regular meeting of the lodge will be December 10, with election of officers.

Club Organizes
A group of eight girls met Friday evening in the home of Martha Alexander, Shuangou street, for the purpose of organizing a club and for assembling and getting down to business the name Odds and Ends Club was decided upon.

Officers chosen were Martha Alexander, president; Frances Blainey, vice president; Laura Snider, secretary, and Mary Elizabeth Suber, press reporter.

After an evening of fun and dancing the girls were invited to the dining room, where the hostess and her mother served a tempting menu, with pink and white carried out in a color scheme which was used in flowers, tall tapers and dainty favors of pink baskets filled with candies, which marked places for Nellie Horton, Peg Keeley, Nesta Alworth, Dorothy Keeley, Martha Alexander, Laura Snider, Frances Blainey and Mary Elizabeth Snider.

Class Honors Students
The John L. Welsh Sunday school class of the Highland Presbyterian church met in the church Friday evening for a brief business session. Following the routine work the guests went to the home of Dr. J. L. McPate, where they entertained at a party in honor of the girls who are home from college during the Thanksgiving holiday season.

The hours were joyously spent with various forms of diversions and at the close of the evening the Misses Dorothy Titus and Elizabeth Zank served a dainty collation. Tones in keeping with the season predominated throughout in the menu appointments.

Miss Frances Shaw was a special visitor of the evening.

1931 Glendale Bridge
Mrs. William Mayberry of Fairmont avenue entertained the 1931 Glendale Bridge Club members in her home recently. Cards formed the main pastime, with prizes going to Mrs. Clyde Nicholson and Mrs. Wilbur Ferrell. The guest token was presented to Miss Iva Mayberry.

Lunch was served, and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. William Gordon. The tables were beautiful in their autumnal tones. Special guests included Mrs. William Gordon of Beaver, Mrs. K. E. Voorhees and Miss Mayberry of this city.

MRS. W. L. BEAL HOSTESS TO CLUB

Associates of the 1914 Book Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. W. L. Beal on Leasure avenue Friday afternoon at a beautifully appointed one o'clock luncheon. The hostess had as aides Mrs. W. P. Feich, Dorothy Felch and Phyllis Beal, the latter who is visiting at her home during the Thanksgiving holiday season.

Later the exchange of books occurred and a social time spent informally occupied the balance of the afternoon.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Russell Urison on Wallace avenue as hostess. Baby mums were used throughout in the decorations.

COMMITTEE MEETING AT GREER RESIDENCE
The Educational Committee of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs will hold an important session Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Charles Greer on North Jefferson street. The meeting will be called to order at 2 o'clock, and it is urged that all clubs have a representative in attendance on this date.

Tendered Surprise
Mrs. Harvey Zeisler of East New Castle was tendered a surprise party on a recent evening when a group of friends assembled to help celebrate her birthday anniversary.

Music, chat and other pastimes were enjoyed, and at a suitable hour lunch was served to Mr. and Mrs. James Todd, Mr. and Mrs. William Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Root of Pulaski, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sanders and daughter Luana Jean of Mansury, O., Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Huff and son Russell of New Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. William Shallenberger, Genevieve Shallenberger, Howard Weatherly, William Sietler of New Castle.

The honored one was the recipient of many lovely gifts in memento of the occasion.

L. A. B. Club Meets
Mrs. James McCullough of Warren avenue was hostess to the L. A. B. Club members in her home Friday. Ten were present, including Mrs. Myrtle Ray, Mrs. W. L. Davis and Mrs. Jennie Blattman, the latter of Leontia, O., who were special guests.

Business matters were discussed with a period of bingo following. Prizes in this contest were won by Mrs. John Sweet and Mrs. Blattman. The serving of a dainty refreshment by the hostess brought the meeting to a close. Bouquets of chrysanthemums were used in the room and table decorations.

On Thursday, Dec. 10, the club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Eva Baker on Warren avenue.

Family Dinner Gathering.
The home of Mrs. Win. Pinkerton on the Pulaski road was a scene of a happy gathering on Thanksgiving day when the long-awaited members of the family at dinner.

A delicious menu was served at noon at a large table beautifully decorated with Thanksgiving decorations with places marking for Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Emery and children, Junior and Betty Jane of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pinkerton and sons, Arwood and Bobbie of the Harbor and Mr. C. W. Pinkerton and sons Jack and Charles and the hostess.

The afternoon was spent in social manner.

G. T. E. Club.
Mrs. Chester Reed and Mrs. Joseph Leyde were successful in capturing the prizes offered for the 500 cards contest on Friday evening when members of the G. T. E. club entertained at the home of Mrs. Earl White on Bonzo street. After this feature the guests were served a delectable lunch by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles Richardson.

A special guest of the evening was Mrs. Bert James.

Adjournment followed and on Wednesday, December 9, Mrs. Clarence Welsh of the Youngstown road will entertain.

The Current Events of '23 will be received on Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. H. Shipley, 312 Highland avenue for their regular session.

P. E. O. SISTERHOOD MAKE HOLIDAY PLANS

The P. E. O. Sisterhood met in regular session on Friday evening in the home of Miss Alice Sterling Shaw street, with a large number in attendance.

During the short business period plans were formulated for their annual holiday dinner party. Ways of aiding the local needy families were discussed, and the club members will take part in caring for those deserving.

In response to roll-call, each member gave a title to a folk song, and a feature that added much to the merriment of the affair, was the fact some of the members sang their response. An interesting and instructive paper entitled "Folk Songs in America" was given by Miss Allison Leslie as the following number.

In order to illustrate some of the songs selected for this meeting, a musical program was given, and Mrs. J. A. McNeill gave two solos, "When You And I Were Young" and "Listen To The Mocking Bird". Mrs. George Westlake and Mrs. J. A. McNeill gave a duet "Under The Willow Tree Sleeping" and following, Mrs. Westlake rendered "The Lovers Lament", "Red River Valley", "In The Winter Time" and "I Wish I Was A Little Bird" bringing the evening to a close.

Before departing for home, the guests were served a delicious lunch by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Alice Sterling. Fall flowers were used in the decorations.

Their next meeting falls on December 12, and will be held at the home of Miss Nannie Mitchell on Chestnut street. This will mark their annual Christmas celebration.

Return From South
Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sherer of the Mt. Jackson road have returned home from Petersburg, Va., where they were called by the serious illness of Mr. Sherer's brother Frank Sherer.

Mr. Hiram C. Sherer of Youngstown, O., accompanied them. This gathering marked the first reunion of the brothers in nineteen years. They report the weather was ideal being 76 in the shade and during their stay had no rain. Enroute home they had snow on the Blue Ridge mountains.

They also visited the battle fields of Petersburg and Gettysburg and Washington, D. C.

Bestyette Bridge Club.
The regular meeting of the Bestyette Bridge club members was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Betty Rhodenbaugh, Boyles avenue. Cards formed the chief pastime, with a lovely favor for honors going to Miss Peg Starr.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Oliver Rhodenbaugh. Dainty bouquets of pink roses graced the individual tables where the menu was served.

Special guests of the evening included the Misses Doris Undergraff and Iva Mayberry.

In two weeks Miss Peg Starr of Moody avenue will be hostess.

Club Gathering
A delightful dinner party was given Thursday evening in the home of Miss Theresa Vitallie. The affair was in the form of a treat, given for members of the Happy Makers Club. Mrs. Jennie Bulanno assisted in serving at individual tables decorated with yellow mums.

Later, a social time was enjoyed, with vocal selections being given by Theresa Vitallie, Theresa Pusella and Jennie Macella.

On December 2, the club will meet in regular session with Miss Vitallie on South Jefferson street as hostess.

D. W. T. Club.
Mrs. Chester Minick of Temple avenue was hostess Friday evening to the D. W. T. club members. Sewing, chat and music were the forms of pastimes. A special guest of the evening was Mrs. Elizabeth Hineman.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HEAR RABBI PHILO

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club will be held Monday afternoon in the Highland church at 2:30 with the program in charge of the department of International Relations.

I. E. Philo, rabbi, lawyer, author and lecturer of Youngstown, Ohio, will be the guest speaker, taking as his subject "Rediscovering America." Rabbi Philo has been enthusiastically received wherever he has spoken and his topic is of timely interest.

Mrs. E. D. Moore and Mrs. John Madigan will be ushers for the afternoon.

To Go to Ellwood
Tuesday evening, Dec. 1, a group of women, members of the local Auxiliary to the American Legion, will go to Ellwood City, where they will attend a party given by the Ellwood Auxiliary.

These parties are being given by the county auxiliaries to raise funds for making Christmas merry for the disabled veterans in the hospital. Those intending to go to the Ellwood party will get in touch with Mrs. E. J. Suer.

Visit at Sharon
Friday Mrs. Zella George, inspector of the Ladies of the G. A. R., and her two past presidents and treasurer, Mrs. P. F. Mayers, Mrs. Faye Davis and Mrs. Blanche Boston were guests of the Ladies of the G. A. R. at Sharon.

They were honored with an elaborate dinner at noon, after which Mrs. George made her official visit to the circle meeting.

Family Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Tucker, West Washington street, were hosts at a family dinner Thanksgiving, when they had placed arranged for Mrs. Tucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Mayers; her brother, Ralph Mayers; niece, Mrs. Gertrude Barber, of Cleveland, O., and themselves.

A delicious dinner of turkey and the trimmings was served and the after-dinner hours were spent informally.

Entertain at Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Douthett of Edison avenue proved royal hosts recently when they entertained a group of guests numbering 15 at a Thanksgiving dinner in their home. A delicious menu was served by the hostess, and following the hours were spent informally.

A number of special guests from New Wilmington participated at this event.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28.—American boyhood today was credited in large part for the early Tom Mix career and career ending star, making against pneumonia threatening his life following an emergency appendicitis operation. Hundreds of telegrams cheering Mix have been received at the hospital.

Tears came to Mix's eyes as the telegrams were read to him. "I'll get well," he said, "and again do my best to please the fans."

The official bulletin of physicians read: "Tom Mix passed a satisfactory 12 hours. He slept practically all night. Within a few hours we hope to report more definite improvement."

FAMILY DINNER

Included among the guests were Mrs. Mary Allen, of Beaver Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen, of Rankin, Eugene Allen of Youngstown, and D. Robinson, of New Brighton.

ABOUT FUNERAL ECONOMY

Conditions sometimes necessitate economy. Sometimes, even though unnecessary, it is desired, for good and sufficient reasons. Sometimes the deceased has requested it.

Such requests should be given consideration. We have a reputation of being high class Funeral Directors. We are. Yet OUR service does NOT necessarily mean EXPENSIVE service. Any funeral handled by us, no matter whether it necessitates the most rigid economy or the most elaborate, receives our careful, conscientious attention to details.

MORE CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD COURT

OUT of 500 professors to whom the National World Court Committee sent a query as to their views with regard to the adherence of the United States, only 13 failed to reply affirmatively. This is probably a fair cross-section of intelligent public opinion on the subject. Some of the names are those of men eminent in the subject of international law.

No doubt the isolationists will sneer at such an expression as academic. That is an easy form of disparagement, though not very impressive. The professors are at one with the great majority of lawyers in recognizing the necessity of playing our part in an institution that can wield such a powerful influence for peace.

MAIL EARLY!

The approaching holiday season is heralded by the usual request of the post office department that the public do what it can to aid in the prompt handling of mail matter which will be increasing in volume each day from now until Christmas.

In sending gift packages two things are important if disappointment is not to be invited—careful wrapping, and mailing as soon as possible. Holiday package mail may be marked to indicate it is not to be opened until Christmas, and this permission should result in an increase in early mailing.

It is a mistake for any person to feel that the small amount of mail which he sends does not delay the transmission of mails, but the aggregate of mail matter in a community like New Castle severely tests the facilities of the post office force at each holiday season.

Even if an individual does not take the broader view of making his contribution toward the handling of mail, he should think of the personal advantages in obtaining the best results in his own shipments by turning them over to the postal force early enough to avoid the inevitable rush of the holiday season, thereby having reasonable assurance of prompt delivery.

FUTURE OF THE PANAMA CANAL

Col. Harry Burgess, governor of the Panama Canal, knocks into a cocked hat the perennial question of developing the Nicaraguan inter-oceanic waterway. In his annual report, Colonel Burgess declares that a third set of locks in the existing canal would solve the problem of inter-oceanic navigation for the period of a century and a half, and these locks would not be required for nearly fifty years.

The estimate is not guesswork, but based on the present traffic, the probable increase of tonnage going through the waterway and the added capacity afforded by the new facilities, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. However, it is highly technical, dealing with daily lockages and tonnage, present adequacy and future adequacy.

It also goes into the matter of expense and contrasts this with the cost of the Nicaraguan canal. According to Colonel Burgess, the third set of locks would require an outlay of $140,000,000, which could be spread over a ten-year period and would not have to be considered at all until 1960 or 1970. The proposed Nicaraguan canal would cost five times that amount and would probably mean another bond issue to add to the already enormous national debt.

Nevertheless, the proponents of the Nicaraguan route will again make themselves heard at the next session of congress. The old question of the sea level canal was revived when President Hoover appointed a commission to resurvey the route and make recommendations as to its cost and practicability, all of which was known when the Panama canal was decided upon.

Certainly the question is not a pressing one. Traffic in the Isthmian waterway has shown the effects of the depression. Only about half of the present capacity of the canal is now needed, and with the return of normal conditions, it will be years before increased facilities are required.

MISLEADING FIGURES

There is a reason why critics of the Hawley-Smoot law with its higher schedules compare the country's export trade before and after passage of the law on the basis of value instead of on a volume basis. They carefully avoid mention of the tables by volume.

Prices have tumbled since the new duties went into effect. The country might export or import a greater volume of goods than ever before yet the total value would be far below that for a year when higher prices prevailed. The only fair way to compare foreign trade is by volume and not by value.

Imports for the normal years of 1923-1925 and the so-called sub-normal years of 1926-1931 show a wide disparity in value in favor of the former but a decline of only 3.3 per cent in volume. The export picture appears dark indeed when values are compared but such leading exports as cotton, copper and wheat fell off in volume only from 8 to 9.6 per cent.

Foreign trade statistics refute the criticism that the Hawley-Smoot tariff law ruined the nation's business and robbed American consumers by forcing up import prices. There was little loss of export business and prices fell sharply.

Too great importance is placed on the foreign business of the United States as a factor for promoting national prosperity. It represents only 7 per cent of the nation's business and only 2 per cent of its profit.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENTS

Christmas entertainments, how the children enjoy them! What is it that makes their little entertainments so splendid? Their stage light helps a little. The sea of heads in the audience confuses them and gives them stage fright, but whether they make perfect orations, or fail in the attempt, their baby faces creep into the hearts of the people and make them glad.

All the people love children always, and are especially tender towards them at Christmas time. This affection is born in all men. If it were not so the human race could not survive. So if they distinguish themselves in their recitations we love them, if they break down, we love them in their discomfiture. This is how the matter stands, and no mother need be ashamed of her boy because he fails in his "piece."

DOG JUDGMENT

Dogs have better judgment than humans at times. Ever notice a canine romp around a street? His instinct knows. He may be dumb, but somehow cynics and pessimists are anathema to him. If a dog makes friends with you, you may be sure your disposition is of the right caliber. Even though he has less respect for his perspicacity.

A sound argument does not require as much sound as a weak one.

Tabulation of football alibis and casualties is already beginning.

Do You Like This Poem?
I Don't
I'll Tell You Why

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I like poetry. The good poet tells so much in such a little space. He makes the truth sing, he makes common words lovely, he finds the flower in the crumpled wall, the sermon in the stone, the jewel in the head of the ugly toad.

But I don't like poets who shrink from life, who use their powers to sing a timid song. In fact, at this moment I am disliking one particular poem that someone gave me and asked me if it was "nice." Here is that poem. It is called "Street Car Rush Hour," and it was written by Violet Alley Storey:

"I could believe in lonely man's Divinity again.
If I were very far away
From all those pushing men!"

"I could believe in fellowship;
Find human love sincere
If I were on a hilltop far
From fellow mortals here!"

That's a poem, to be sure. It is technically true, it is melodious. And it is a distillation in words of a mood that almost all human beings, in their moments of weakness, feel. But it is a mood of ignoble surrender and it shouldn't have been written.

The fine woman who wrote it should know that if she cannot believe in "lonely man's divinity" unless she is far away from him, she cannot believe in it at all. If she cannot believe in fellowship or love's sincerity unless she is all alone on a hilltop, then she is forever lost and lonely.

We must believe in human beings when we are jostled by the sweaty mob. When they lie and cheat and snarl and knife and glare and shove us aside, we must have faith in them still. When we weaken to our worst and betray our friends and go against the best that is in us, the poet must see deeper than our enemies do and "shout aloud, for all to hear, that we are better than we seem and worth it as we are." The poet must go down in the dirt and the slime with the rest of us and fall when we fall and rise when we climb and slip back when we fall—and love the fight and the failure and the adventure of it—before he dares to write a poem about lonely man's divinity or human love sincere.

He cannot linger in a pretty garden and weep for man's mean degradation.

He must be a part of all we are and feel as we feel, spirit dead and enjoy us in our mean spirit—cash hours for the sake of our nobler strivings.

Why doesn't Violet Storey write a poem about that? She could.

YOU AND THE "BREAKS"

Your advancement has been rapid in the business world. You feel that you have outdistanced your former friends and those with whom you were employed in former years.

How has this advancement affected you?

Are you as unassuming as you were in less important place?

Are you as easy to meet and as likable as you were then?

Do you feel above those you knew well in the last years?

Isn't it a fact that you make little effort to conceal this spirit?

Haven't you reached the stage where you care very little whether your manner hurts people or not?

Isn't it your idea that those who have not advanced with you have little in common with you or you wish them and they have little right to presume to keep you on as an equal or friend?

You think they ought to realize the difference and not expect you to receive them on the same basis as you once welcomed them.

Haven't you expanded faster than you deserve, had too many lucky breaks?

None are self sufficient in this world and all the truth were told you may be more proficient than those you left behind—just more lucky—that's it.

It was a hot day and the traffic policeman was having a busy time. In the midst of it he saw an elderly woman looking across at him, so he held up a "bus, four cars, a motor-

Dear Fred: My answer tells this about one of his customers, an elderly man who always insists on picking out for himself what he wants in fruit and vegetables. Everything must be absolutely fresh and without a blemish. One day when the grocer had neglected to remove from the display window two cartons of which he considered too far gone for selling, this elderly man entered, stepped to the window and was reaching for the melons when his eye lighted on an alluring representation of a group of bathing beauties on a card that lay in the window. Absent-mindedly he picked up the melons and passed them back to the grocer for wrapping, while he continued to get "an eyeful."

"Believe me," says the grocer, "I never took more pleasure in wrapping goods than when I tried up those very same melons—for weren't they the man's own selection?" Amuck.

SO BIG

The broad general rule is that a man is about as big as the things that make him mad.

Snowden's Rise To Viscount
Stirs Interest In His Career

Some Americans Believe That He Has Received Reward For Political Services As He Prepares To Retire From Public Life

Elevation to the British peerage country took him to his heart as a favorite son. Forgotten were the cruel things said in the war days. As viewed by Americans as one of the stirring developments of politics, his brilliant services in a national emergency are reviewed in comments, and he is credited with unusual personal qualities. Some Americans believe that his retirement from active affairs is fore-shadowed by the action of the government.

"Few of the changes wrought by time and circumstances have been more pronounced than his elevation to the peerage," says the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, paying the tribute that in the recent economic crisis he was one of the first of the Laborites to put country above party. "THE JERSEY CITY JOURNAL also views his career as a striking illustration of the vicissitudes of fortune," with the recognition that his career supplies the grit and persistence that the world has learned to expect in the British character."

"Though Snowden's noble robes, in some ways, it became the simple pretensions he has made throughout a useful public career," according to the CLEVELAND NEWS, "they may, perhaps, be viewed purely as the reward of greatness." Some of Snowden's distinguished comrades may sneer at his new found honors, accuse him of playing to the grandstand, but the world will not believe them. He may turn out to be a useful friend at court for the very man who criticizes him. Certainly he will be no discredit to the august company he joins, or the group which sped him on his political career."

"The House of Lords," observes the NEWARK DAILY CAPITAL, "contains many Conservatives and plenty of Liberals, but Labor men who are peers are few. Lord Snowden will hold the office of lord privy seal and become the party leader in the House of Lords. This is not the first time that labor needed help in order to be properly represented in the Lords, a body of aristocrats. When the Labor Party first came into power it had nobody for support in the upper chamber of Parliament. Lord Haldane, accepted this responsibility. He had held the highest judicial office in the British empire, that of Lord Chancellor, and as such had occupied the 'wool sock' headed the peerage in a political sense and was presiding officer of the House of Lords."

"As he shows himself to be wafted upwards in the peerage," states the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, "comment almost automatically takes on the eulogical note. As long as Mr. MacDonald remains Prime Minister, Mr. Snowden will raise an important voice in the councils of the government; but his acceptance of a viceregency at the hands of the National coalition merely emphasizes the fact that his long service as a Laborite, and not as a Conservative, is the basis of his position."

The son of a Yorkshire weaver, he began his adult life in the cavernous recesses of the civil service, in the foundations of the established order. A bicycle accident rescued him and launched him on his career of coldly passionate radicalism and revolt. Now he retires into the latter strata of the peerage, at the upper end of the same system. It speaks a good deal for the system that it can receive him so easily. "In a way, events have been too much for Mr. Snowden; but if he is now on the path which leads to retirement from public life he has behind him a widespread admiration from all parties and a good deal of real affection from a nation to which he has given distinguished service."

Commenting on the curious twists and turns of political fortunes in England, the ROCK FORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC remarks: "The Labor party had no more outspoken champion, yet when England faced a crisis he accepted the post of chancellor of the exchequer in the National government and went to the limit of his powers, physical and mental, to help pull the country through its darkest hour. Two years ago when he returned from his brilliant service in the conference dealing with the Young plan his signs—Pittin 311."

"Snowden's whole career," in the judgment of the MANCHESTER UNION, "has been a bitter struggle with physical weakness and pliancy, and yet his indomitable spirit has risen above these handicaps and achieved for itself an honorable place among the leaders of the nation. For a quarter of a century his voice was heard in the British House of Commons, and although at times the rapid thrusts of his logic led to the quick, he was the admiration and respect of his bitterest enemies. As chancellor of the exchequer in two Labor ministries, he exhibited a range of ability that has not been surpassed by any of the predecessors in this important office."

"Few men more deserve the honor," attests the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, adding: "Philip Snowden was created Viscount by the King for services as real to the nation as any field marshal's or admiral's, and far more noble than contributing a fortune to the war chest of a political party. Snowden kept England's credit and fortune from destruction by tremendous effort and great genius, which cost him his health and the affections of the party for which he had given a lifetime's service. The title is a courteous acknowledgment of the man's real nobility."

"The House of Lords," observes the NEWARK DAILY CAPITAL, "contains many Conservatives and plenty of Liberals, but Labor men who are peers are few. Lord Snowden will hold the office of lord privy seal and become the party leader in the House of Lords. This is not the first time that labor needed help in order to be properly represented in the Lords, a body of aristocrats. Negro Youth Is Shot To Death By Two Gunmen

Two Gunmen Invade Pittsburgh Home Looking For Money—Shoot Youngster

LAD TRYING TO PROTECT SISTER

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—A 14-year-old negro boy was shot and killed today when he attempted to prevent the holdup of his sister in their home.

Edward Crawford, the victim, was shot through the mouth, police said. He was pronounced dead on his arrival at the hospital.

Police said he had ordered two masked negroes from the home. The thugs were believed to have been seeking $1,400 insurance money which the Crawford family received for the death of their mother, fatally burned Armistice day last.

Demand Money

The two robbers first demanded the money of Bernice Crawford, sister of the victim. The girl gave the two gunmen her purse containing five dollars and told them that was all the money she had.

Edward and his brother, James, 9, were asleep on the third floor. They heard the voices and descended.

"Get out of the house," 14-year-old Edward commanded.

Two shots rang out as the bandits answered his demand.

Eunice Pringle To Sue Pantages For One Million

Despite Accutal California Girl Will Sue Millionaire Theater Magnate

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Although Alexander Pantages, multi-millionaire theatrical man, was acquitted by a jury on a charge of attacking Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer, Miss Pringle today announced she would press her $1,000,000 damage suit against him.

Miss Pringle was keenly disappointed over the jury's action in acquitting Pantages after deliberating 65 hours.

"I got a break at last," Pantages said, revealing the two trials had cost him more than a half-million dollars.

Mary Clowes Is Without "Hubby"

Girl Who Would Marry Any Man For $10,000 Finds No "Takers" So Far

(International News Service) MONONGAHELA, Pa., Nov. 23.—Pretty Mary H. Clowes today had yet to receive her first offer from "any respectable white man" whom she is willing to marry for $10,000 with which to buy a home for her aged parents.

Mary has been unemployed since she gave up her $7 a week job in a restaurant to seek more remunerative employment which never materialized.

She said her mother, 61, an invalid, and her father, 70, in poor health and unemployed, were threatened with eviction from their home in Mison, O., a mining village near Columbus, O.

York Young Man Killed In Crash

Gordon Schluser, 19, York, Pa., Killed Near Altoona, Penna.

(International News Service) ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 23.—Police today were investigating the death of Gordon Schluser, 19, of York, who was killed instantly when the automobile in which he was riding struck an abutment at Waterside, Bedford county.

E. P. Stiner, 20, of York, driver of the car, escaped without injury.

Both were enroute home after spending the holiday vacation in Altoona.

SALVATION ARMY STAFF BAND

SALVATION ARMY MASS MEETING AT CATHEDRAL SUNDAY

Will Parade.

This is due to the fact that there will be a parade from the downtown district to the Cathedral. Included in the parade formation will be a mounted escort of 25 members of Troop F in charge of Captain Harvey G. Blintrin; an escort of police, the Veterans of Foreign Wars drum corps, the Salvation Army staff band from Pittsburgh, visiting officers of the Army, members of the committee in charge of the Salvation Army appeal and groups of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion.

The parade will move promptly at 2 o'clock from the appeal headquarters on the public square, going to East street via Washington street, over East street to North street, over North to Mill street and up Mill street and Highland avenue to the Cathedral.

Reserved seat tickets given out will hold good until 2:30 p. m. at the Cathedral. After that all seats will be thrown open to the public.

The famous staff band from Pittsburgh will precede the program of the afternoon with a program of sacred music numbers, which will start at 2:30 p. m.

The Program.

Program of the meeting will get under way at 2:30 p. m. It will be opened with the singing of America by the entire audience. This will be followed with prayer by a local pastor.

An anthem will then be rendered by a chorus choir formed of representatives of five local churches with John Owens as leader of the same.

Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, chairman of the Salvation Army appeal, will make appropriate remarks at this time. The staff band will then play a special selection, after which Louis B. Round, vice-chairman of the drive, is scheduled to make a few remarks.

There will be another selection by the band after which Attorney J. Glenn Berry, commander of Perry S. Gaston post No. 343, American Legion, and other service organization representatives will be heard.

A selection will then be rendered by the male quartet of the First Congregational church under the leadership of L. O. Davies.

The principal address of the afternoon will follow with Lieutenant Colonel C. B. Campbell, commander of the western Pennsylvania division of the Salvation Army, as the speaker. He will have as his subject "The Value of Salvation Army Work and What May Be Accomplished in This Community". Lieutenant Colonel Campbell will endeavor to bring a message that will enlighten all as to what the Army has been doing and will continue to do in this community and elsewhere.

His address will be followed by moving pictures of the Army's children's home at Bellevue. Then will follow remarks of W. E. Hoffman, special representative of the western Pennsylvania division of the Army, and Rev. Samuel R. Mainland of the church of the Army here. This will conclude the program of the afternoon, which is expected to be over at 4 p. m.

At Central Presbyterian.

In the evening at 8:30 o'clock there will be an open air meeting and music by the band and at 7:45 p. m. there will be an old-fashioned Salvation Army meeting held in the Central Presbyterian church, with Lieutenant Colonel C. B. Campbell as the preacher.

Seven Executed In Poland Today

Seven White Russians, Accused Of Being Soviet Spies Are Put To Death

(International News Service) WARSAW, Nov. 23.—Seven white Russians, convicted of acting as Soviet spies against Poland, were hanged at Baranovice today after President Moscicki had denied them pardons.

The execution was one of the clumsiest affairs in Polish history. The gallows broke after the noose had been placed about the neck of the first victim and his comrades were compelled to watch him strangle to death.

They were forced, too, to listen to endless debates between physicians as to whether he was really dead.

A Greek Orthodox priest added a mournful touch to the hangings, swinging an incense burner and murmuring prayers. The executions lasted four hours.

Starchok To Die In Chair Monday

Harry Starchok, 29, Conemaugh Slayer Of Small Girl, Taken To Rockview

(International News Service) JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 23.—Harry Starchok, 29, of Conemaugh, sentenced to death for the brutal murder of six-year-old Betty Mowrey a year ago, was whisked away from the Cambria county jail at 10:18 a. m. today en route to the death-house at Rockview penitentiary.

Sheriff George, of Cambria county, deputies, state police and armed guards formed an escort for the automobile which today carried Starchok a step nearer death. At seven o'clock Monday morning he will pay with his life for the murder of the little girl whose body he secreted under the floor-boards of his house.

Sheriff George said officials at the prison had arranged to hold open a telephone wire from the death house to the executive mansion in Harrisburg in the event of a last minute stay of execution by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

'MOONSHINE' RESULTS IN ARREST OF RULE

John Rule, Wilmerding, Pa., was arrested late yesterday by State Highway Patrolman Cunningham and placed in the custody of County Detective H. M. Lee. According to Cunningham the car operated along the New Castle-New Bedford road contained five gallons of "moonshine." Rule, it is reported, obtained the illicit beverage in Youngstown.

WEATHER CONDITIONS TO END GOLF SEASON

It was stated today that there will be no official closing of the municipal golf course but that weather conditions will force a cessation of play. Snowfall, similar to those of yesterday will result in the turf being unsuitable for play.

Coast Guard Boat Is Lost In Lake

Grave Fears Felt For Safety Of Eleven Lives On Board Missing Coast Guard Ship

(International News Service) HOUGHTON, Mich., Nov. 23.—Grave fears were felt today for the safety of a coast guard cutter, missing on Lake Superior since Wednesday when it left Grand Marais for Isle Royal.

A crew of six coastguardsmen and a small number of fishermen were reported on the missing craft. It is believed that at least 11 lives are in danger.

Three other coastguard boats were braving a November storm in search of the lost ship today.

The missing Grand Marais coastguardsmen, it was explained, were taking the fishermen to Isle Royal.

In ordinary weather, the trip would require about six hours.

The radio-equipped Crawford, from Two Harbors, Mich., was leading the search.

The radio at the station here was prepared to pick up messages from the Crawford.

VETS BUGLE CORPS TO LEAD PARADE

Members of the bugle and drum corps of the Harry J. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will march in the Army Sunday afternoon at 1:30 sharp, from whence they will leave to head the parade to be held Sunday afternoon in the interests of the Salvation Army.

The members of the corps will appear in civilian clothes and all members are requested by First Sergeant J. W. Thompson to be promptly at the appointed time.

Arson Is Charged In Home Burning

Claimed Building Was Set On Fire To Get The Insurance

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 23.—Charged with arson and firing a building with intent to defraud an insurance company, John Brasilli, 50, of Westmoreland City, was arrested by State Police here today. Following a hearing before Justice of the Peace Jos. A. Walton, Brasilli was held for court and lodged in the county jail in default of bail.

The house owned by Brasilli's brother-in-law, John Dalavado and occupied by the Brasilli family, burned to the ground under mysterious circumstances on Thanksgiving day. It was the first time in five years that all members of the Brasilli family were away from home at the same time.

Brasilli carried $2,000 insurance on the contents; Dalavado carried $5,000 insurance on the building. The fire started from an explosion the cause of which has not been discovered.

Junior Endeavor Will Start Annual Membership Contest

Presbyterian Society Of Young People Plan Contest For December 6

Members of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian Junior Christian Endeavor society are urged to be present at tomorrow's league meeting as plans are all ready for the launching of the annual membership and attendance contest. As the contest will get underway Sunday, December 6, it is important that all members be there tomorrow.

The contest will close the latter part of March with a play and a gala night for all. The society has an enrollment of thirty members ranging in age from six to twelve years. Their work is memorizing Bible scriptures, study of home and foreign missions, practicing stewardship for God in any way they can, study books and stewardship. Their goal is fifty members by April 1st, (the start of the new church year).

Society members will start their new study book and a new series story December 1. Points will be given as follows, a blue star each Sunday a member is present, a gold star to each member with a perfect attendance for the entire month, and a red star for bringing a new regular member.

Each member memorizing the Junior Endeavor pledge will receive a silver star. Each member bringing his Bible, a yellow star.

As Christmas draws near the children will start their Christmas activities. Extensive plans will be carried out this year in regard to any unfortunate the children may know or learn of. The society is steadily growing and is very interesting both to the children and adults. Emily Turner is the pianist, Marion Unanue assistant pianist, and Pearl Wallace and Lenora Christley will serve on the sick committee for the next four months; Betty and June Alexander on the birthday committee; William Horcher and Daniel Schenby on investigating committee for Christmas baskets and toys; Ruth Prosser and Dorothy Humphrey, on Christmas basket committee; and Clarence Horcher, Clara Galbreath, Kenneth Gibson and Booby Costard.

Each member is to bring a discarded toy as soon as possible and the toy committee will see that it is repaired ready for Santa Clause to give to some child at Christmas time.

Sunday's topic will be "India." Mrs. G. G. Horcher is superintendent and Mrs. D. C. Schenby is assistant.

The Parent Problem

Don't Help Child Walk; Most Hard Falls Come From Adult Assistance

Dr. Myers States That Parents Aid Baby Most When They Leave Him Alone To Learn To Perambulate

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Walking is a kind of gradual evolution from the first day of the child's life.

Press against the soles of the brand new infant's feet and he will push as he attempts to get his legs. All mothers must have observed the child long before standing alone when taken up, give a kind of upward spring when his soles were flat on the bed or floor; also that when put down, if his soles touched the bed, he would straighten his limbs firmly rather than relax them. So the mother learned to keep his feet from a standing position.

My oldest child, whom I carefully observed, developed from the first day until walking began on the 35th day, in the following mode and order: Rolled from side to back, rolled from back to either side, sat alone, went through all sorts of good calisthenics, such as lifting one or both feet from the hips while lying on his back, rose from reclining to sitting position without the aid of his hands while his feet were held down, rolled over entirely traveling several feet in 15 minutes, got up on elbows, later on knees and elbows clearing chest and stomach (feet failing to coordinate with arm movements), moved on the floor about his shoulders as a pilot, feet being the propellers. Then he pulled himself to a standing position, while on his back pushed himself forward by straightening his legs when bent at the knee, made alternating movements of knees and feet (30th day), then on hands and feet, i. e., walking on all fours (31st day). Whereupon he crept with an object in one hand, crept pushing large objects, as chairs, about the room, standing by furniture holding with both hands, later on standing and holding by one hand, getting down from standing position while holding with both hands. Then, by only one hand, walking by holding to furniture, walking while leaning against wall, later rounding a corner, getting down while employing both hands with a toy, walking three steps from a support to another support, walking from support out into the open room, rising to a standing position without support. Care was exercised that no one aided the child in his learning to walk.

In learning to walk his arms did not swing as do adults, but this coordination came gradually. He walked as first as if on stilts, therefore he easily tripped over small objects. Slowly he learned to keep his balance while bending lifted feet at the knee, carrying objects while walking, running, jumping, kicking objects, jumping from boxes a few inches then higher and higher, walking backwards, learning to sit on a cushion or a box. This last named accomplishment is a big one, which comes after many trials and failures.

Of course children differ widely in development of walking and there are all sorts of ways by which babies creep. Some virtually never creep at all. Nevertheless, I think it is safe to say that all normal children pass through many of the stages I have described.

If you would help the child most to walk don't help at all. Let him alone. Most hard falls little children get incident to walking come because they have too much interference and presumed assistance by adults. The child who learns alone, falls with ease and grace. He doesn't have far to fall and he learns to bend his knees on falling and to protect himself by his hands. The trouble with us parents is we are so impatient and we want to show our friends how early our child can walk, how smart he is. I suppose we are all like that unless we watch ourselves.

Kegarise Is Now Making Progress

At the executive committee meeting of the Shenango Parent-Teacher Association held recently Mrs. Van Eman, president, was in the chair and splendid reports were heard from the various committees.

Frank Hay, chairman of the welfare committee, reported that their committee had been busy engaged in aiding the needy of the community and the school children, with soup, vegetables and warm clothing.

The program committee reported material received from the state from which has been arranged a series of splendid monthly programs.

Monday, November 30, the regular meeting of the association will be held in the school and an unique program has been arranged for this time, when it is anticipated every patron, and parent of the school will be present.

The program has been arranged that the parents will attend a session of school for the evening, with the time divided into ten minute periods, each selecting the subjects for the evening and the subject teacher will conduct a lesson period. Illustrating to the parents the method used in teaching the pupils.

Open House Will Be Conducted At Y.W.C.A. New Years

Membership Committee Plans Open House For Afternoon Of January 1

Y. W. C. A. Open House on New Years afternoon was again planned by the Membership Committee at the meeting on Wednesday. Mrs. L. C. Mantz will act as general chairman and will be assisted by members of the Y. W. C. A. board and membership committee. All members and friends of the Association are invited to come in for tea and music and a friendly chat.

The membership committee also gave reports on the renewals they had been able to secure from former members. Emphasis was placed on the importance of the work not only for the money which was secured for the increased good which the Association could do in the community through members who realize their responsibility for helping to bring a more abundant life to girls and women in New Castle. The Young Women's Christian Association would not be an association if it were not for its members. The education and service work which it does is merely the result of the pooling of the ideas of all its members.

Late Treasurer Is Found Short

Late David Price, Of Lackawanna County, Was $69,000 Short In His Accounts

(International News Service) SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 28.—David Price, Lackawanna county treasurer, was short approximately $69,000 in his accounts at the time he was found dead in the bathtub of his home last August, an audit report filed with the county commissioners Friday revealed.

The audit, which had been in progress since August, showed a shortage of $28,750 in county funds and the remainder in his accounts as fiscal agent for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Price was found dead on the day the audit of his accounts was started. The coroner reported death was due to heart trouble.

TOBACCO GROWERS RAISE OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED TAX

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 28.—Strong opposition to the proposed cigarette tax has developed in the great tobacco growing section of Southern Pennsylvania. C. M. Ehrhart, president of the York County Cigar Manufacturers' Association declared Friday.

Ehrhart claimed the growers and manufacturers are aroused at the prospect of a heavy falling off in demand for tobacco products if the movement for levying state sales taxes spreads throughout the country.

Should Embedded Teeth And Roots Be Removed? Reader Eager To Know

Dr. Clendenning Says Question Is Not Easy To Answer As Medical Opinion Swings Back And Forth

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Mrs. T. J. M. is eager to know about the advisability of the removal of embedded wisdom teeth and of roots of teeth that have been left in the jaw.

A particular case which she recounts is that of a patient with a part of the apex of a root remaining in the lower jaw some years after a molar tooth had been pulled. The root had evidently broken off in the process, the tip remaining behind.

The patient has some symptoms supposed to be due to focal infection, but the X-ray of this root tip shows no evidence of infection or granulation or of bone rarefaction.

The questions are not easy ones to decide. Medical opinion on the subject has swung from one side to the other and is still swinging back and forth at the present time. There are some who think that all such remnants should be removed, others who think that they should be removed only under the direct necessity.

Far be it from me also to attempt to give advice concerning a situation I have not seen at first hand. The opinion of the doctor on the case is always the best. But according to Mrs. M. he also is puzzled, and under those circumstances some general opinions can be safely hazarded.

It certainly is possible for tooth roots to be broken off and remain in the mouth a long time without doing any harm. Several German investigators, among them Gottlieb, have made sections and put under the microscope tissue from jaws in which retained root stumps have been embedded for years. There were plenty of them without evidence of infection and sometimes they had grown to the bone.

But in general we know that a foreign body or foreign piece of tissue which does not obtain a blood supply from the tissues where it is embedded will cause trouble. It is called sequestrum, and tends to form pus around it and be a source of great irritation. In the case of a broken tip of a tooth root, however, it is a considerable time to collect.

WANT LOCATIONS OF ALL SCHOOL HOUSES

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, has received from the state department two Lawrence county maps on which he has been asked to mark the location of all school houses now in use, and also the location of all houses which have been abandoned, together with a lot of other data which will require considerable time to collect.

Vacations To Vary In County Schools

Will Range All The Way From Three Days To Two Weeks At Christmas

Christmas vacations of various lengths, ranging from three days to two weeks, will be taken in schools of the county according to County Superintendent John C. Syling.

Christmas comes on Friday. Some of the schools will close on the preceding Wednesday and open up again on the following Monday.

Others will close on Thursday preceding Christmas and will remain down the following week, while a few will take two weeks vacation, from the Thursday preceding Christmas.

The length of the Christmas vacation is determined by the teacher and pupils in the various districts. Those who will only take three days figure that they would rather be out earlier in the spring, than would be the case if they took one or two weeks.

Democrat Leaders In House Seek To Shelve Prohibition For While

Party Elders From Southern Dry States Add To Democratic Difficulties

Prohibition Has Projected Itself Into House Leadership Battle

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Democratic leaders of the house have decided to make a bold effort to shelve the prohibition question during the coming session of congress. It has been learned authoritatively.

This position, adopted by party "elders" from southern dry states, is expected to add to the difficulties which have been piling up for the Democrats since they became the majority party in the house.

Prohibition Issue.
Northern Democrats who were elected on the wet issue are determined to couple the abolition of prohibition with measures for the economic improvement of the country.

The prohibition issue has projected itself into the Democratic leadership fight between Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York and Henry T. Rainey of Illinois.

Friends of O'Connor charge that dry Democrats are seeking to head off his candidacy for the office because he has been a prominent foe of prohibition in house debates.

Democrats Aroused.
Wet Democrats are aroused also by reports that the dry Democrats will make an effort to "pack" the judiciary committee and perhaps restore the old committee on the alcoholic liquors traffic and give it jurisdiction of all prohibition questions.

The judiciary committee now has five dry Democrats and two wets on it. When the Democrats assume control they will have eight more members. A strong fight will be made in the party caucus of the wet for an even break.

The Republicans of the house also faced difficulties as the Pennsylvania delegation met to decide whether it would support Rep. Tilson of Connecticut or Rep. Snell of New York for the speakership.

Both Claim Majority.
Both Snell and Tilson forces claim a majority of Republican votes in the party conference which will be held on Monday.

Nomination for speaker by a minority party usually carries with it the minority floor leadership. Since Tilson has held the post of majority leader, however, he insists that he will be the Republican leader even if he is defeated for speaker.

Ship Contest Is Gaining Headway In Reserve Club

Ben Franklin Junior High Girls' Club Has Attendance Contest

A contest of unusual type has been of great interest to members of the Benjamin Franklin Girl Reserve club this semester. The contest, which is in keeping with the club's semester theme, is for the purpose of stimulating attendance at the meetings. It has achieved that purpose for the attendance has reached a large percentage of the total membership of over 200 girls each time.

The idea used in the contest is:—There are seven different steamship lines, the names of which and the captains are as follows:—Scoti, Alice Preston; French, Dora Scott; one; Spanish, Mary Carbo; German, Adeline Sagrantini; Dutch, Theda Waters; Italian, Virginia Boyd; and British, Edna Raney.

Thirty-eight girls are on the reservation list on each line, besides the captain and the purser. At each meeting the girls report to the captain, are checked on the list and given due credit. The lines having the best attendance will be given recognition, the exact form of which will be decided later by the club.

At the Irish meeting held a short time ago the British line won in attendance, the French line came in second, and the Italian line had the fewest. For all the meetings the British line, captained by Edna Raney with Betty Ueber as purser has come out ahead, with the French and German lines tied, as very close seconds.

A publicity committee, headed by Vivian Hamill, is preparing posters to show each week the progress of the contest. A new poster will be up every Wednesday morning on the second floor between the library doors.

Cleveland Gunmen Kill Man, Wound Another In Arm

Two Victims Mowed Down As They Ride In Automobile—Believed Policy Game Feud

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—Tanks of machine guns and shotguns fired from two speeding automobiles, one man was killed instantly here today and another man was seriously wounded as a result of an underworld policy game feud, according to police.

The dead man was identified tentatively as James McLaughlin, address unknown. His head was badly mutilated by the slugs from the machine guns which shattered the automobile in which the two victims were riding.

The wounded man, police said, was Tony Horton, 28, negro, reputed owner of the Apex club, and friend of Billy Richardson, alleged policy king of Cleveland. Suffering from a bullet torn left arm, Horton was taken to Charity hospital for treatment.

Order Venire In Kane Trial

Venire Of Sixty Summoned For Jury Duty In Trial Of Prof. Elisha Kane

WHEELS OF JUSTICE PUT INTO MOTION
(International News Service)
HAMPTON, Va., Nov. 28.—Court machinery for bringing to trial Dr. Elisha Kane, 3rd, son of a prominent Pennsylvania family and college professor, on a charge of murder, was set in motion here Friday when a venire of 60 was ordered summoned by Judge V. Vernon Spratley, who will preside over the trial in circuit court of Elizabeth City county.

Because of widespread interest which the case has attracted here, both defense and prosecution counsel anticipate difficulty in obtaining a panel of 20 out of the venire of 60. The venire is the largest drawn for a case in Elizabeth City county court in 20 years and comprises men from Hampton and the two county districts.

There will be no effort either by defense or prosecution counsel to seek a change of venue. It was officially announced by chief counsel for both here today. The accused college professor is expected here about December 1, from Kane, Pa., to complete arrangements for his defense.

Indians Leave Mesa Territory, Mercury Rises

Frozen And Frost-Bitten Indians Start Trek Into Zuni, New Mexico

DEATH LIST IN COLD SPELL NINE

(International News Service)
ZUNI, N. M., Nov. 28.—The trek of frozen and frost-bitten Indians from the High Mesas south of here continued today, as rising temperatures melted huge snowdrifts behind which 1,300 Indians were trapped in a blizzard.
The death toll rose to nine today, when an Indian woman and baby were found frozen, to death. Two men, previously believed dead, were revived.
Foot Amputated
G. W. Tetter, Zuni agent, said hundreds of Indians succeeded in getting through the snow and ice barriers into Zuni. Many were suffering from frost bite, but only four required hospitalization. Two Zuni women were in serious condition, and it was feared their feet would have to be amputated. One Navaho woman, an expectant mother, was brought in during the night.
It was estimated that not more than 300 remained in the highlands and it was expected they would be able to reach Zuni before night-fall.

Boy Scout News

Troop 17
Our regular weekly meeting was held last night at the First Presbyterian church with 19 scouts present. Ten boys in uniform. Games were played and first and second class test work was given. Patrol meetings were then held. A talk on the toy collection work with the V. F. W. was then given. Closing ceremonies dismissed the troop.
Roger Howe, scribe.

Board Meeting
The regular monthly executive board meeting of the local scout council was held at five o'clock yesterday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Dr. C. J. Williamson, council president, presiding. Good reports were made by Commissioner Davis, Rev. G. S. Bennett, R. L. Boyd, Rex Patch, Charles Metzler, Frank Fischer, E. B. Hawkins, William Turner, and Earle Hervey (reporting for Ellwood district).
The president is making up a nominating committee to make and receive nominations for council officers for the ensuing year; nominations being made for president, three vice-presidents (one of these being the Ellwood district chairman ex officio), a treasurer, scout executive and scout commissioner. According to the local council constitution, field executives and deputy commissioners are appointed by the executive subject to executive board approval.

Christmas Seal Sale Under Way In County

First Christmas seals, such as were placed on sale throughout the county Friday by the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, had their inception in the desire of Miss Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Del., to raise money for a tuberculosis hospital on the banks of the Brandywine river. This was exactly a quarter of a century ago.
Today the idea originated in this country by Miss Bissell is a nationwide effort every Christmas season, and the funds raised through the sales of these little seals have been and are being used in eliminating the dread disease from among the people of this country.
It is true that the disease has been eliminated to a very great extent, but there is still plenty of work to be done with the money derived from the sale of the seals, as tuberculosis still remains one of the leading causes of death between the ages of 15 and 45 years.
When one realizes that the expenditure of a dollar will purchase a hundred of these seals and that the dollars secured in this manner, when combined in a united effort against the spread of tuberculosis, mean that all may have a part in the eradication of this disease, it should bring a response in the shape of a dollar from every individual who has received a package of a hundred within the limits of Lawrence county.
Nationally the dollars accumulated through the medium of these Christmas seals this year will mean the establishment and maintenance of sanatoriums for treating tuberculosis, while locally it will mean a health work among school children of the county, the teaching of habits that help to insure good health, the bringing of rest, good food, sunshine, fresh air, medical attention to sick children.
The local work to which a major portion of the funds realized from the sales of seals in Lawrence county goes is carried on by the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society in the next few months, due to the conditions that prevail.
These conditions bring undernourishment and other results that cause tuberculosis and it will be the function of the Lawrence County Society in an even more aggressive manner than ever to endeavor to overcome these conditions and their direct effect on the health of the district.
Leading the movement in Lawrence county for the sale of these Christmas seals, which not only provide funds for a very worthy cause, but are useful in the Christmas season of the year in many ways, is a committee of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society known as the Christmas seal committee.
The other members of the committee are Miss Rose Butz, Mrs. E. G. Moore, Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. John McKeegan, Mrs. S. F. Rowland, Mrs. Samuel Klatzer, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Fred L. Rentz, Mrs. Harry K. Bell, all of New Castle; Mrs. Lloyd Rodgers, Poleska; Mrs. Stella Henson, Wampum; Mrs. Florence Wilkerson, Rose Point; Mrs. L. W. Greenlee, New Castle, Jr.; Mrs. L. G. Sue E. Jackson, Enon Valley; Mrs. N. G. McClelland, Edinburg; Mrs. Lena C. Chaddock, Hillsville; Mrs. Swonger, New Bedford; Mrs. Dick Thompson, Mahoningtown; Mrs. Rankin Johnson, New Wilmington.

Peace Gathering In Paris Breaks Up In Fist Fight Uproar

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Jeers and boos from a howling audience punctuated by fist fights, broke up an international disarmament mass meeting here last night.
The address delivered by Senator William E. Borah by radio from the United States, urging public opinion to enforce disarmament, was hardly audible due to static.
The assemblage in the Trocadero listened to it with few interruptions. But as soon as a French translator began to speak the booing broke out again.
A nationalist meeting in another hall, the Halle Wagram, meanwhile proceeded quietly, in protest against the "political character" of the Trocadero gathering.
Former Premier Edouard Herriot was the first to be howled down when he said "the spirit must prevail over the brute forces of the world."
"Nonsense," shouted a large group of young men in the center of the audience.
Soon there was an uproar. Police were called and four of the disturbers, alleged to be members of the Royalist organization known as "the king's henchmen" were ejected.
Several fist fights broke out and the tumult became such that the Trocadero meeting had to be suspended.
Mlle. Louise Weiss, who was a member of Premier Laval's party on his recent trip to the United States and who organized the demonstration, also was howled down, as was

Veterans Will Take Care Of Santa Letters

In order that they may know the wants of children in the city, the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, asks all children in the city to address their Santa Claus letters in their care at 134 North Jefferson street.
The Post is making arrangements to furnish Christmas toys to the needy children of the city and are gathering toys to be fixed up and distributed with the aid of Troops 15 and 17, Boy Scouts, on Christmas eve.
In order to anticipate the wants of some of the children whom they expect to assist, they ask that the children write to them and tell them what they want.
The boys in the post expect to be kept extremely busy from now until Christmas getting ready to play Santa Claus to a host of children. They will be aided in the work by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Maryland Man Is Convicted

William Hiser, 62, Killer Of Wife And Neighbor Woman, Is Found Guilty

YOUNG BOY PROVES PRINCIPAL WITNESS
(International News Service)
HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 28.—An unqualified first degree murder verdict that carries with it a possible sentence of hanging was recorded in Washington county in criminal court today.
William Hiser, 62, was on trial for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Anne Rowland Hiser. He was also charged with the murder of a neighbor, Mrs. Emma Hull.
A 13-year-old step son, Roy Rowland, an eye witness told how on the evening of Aug. 12, he and two women were sitting on the front steps of the Hull home when Hiser came along and began firing. Mrs. Hiser lived only a few hours after the shooting but Mrs. Hull lingered for several days at the local hospital. The boy was also shot in the shoulder.

Coroner's Jury Orders Arrest Of Pittsburgh Man

Philip Spellen, With Slayers Of Aliases Hunted In Slaying Of Two Men

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28.—Apprehension of Philip Spellen, alias Spallina, alias "Little Joe" Spinehl, today was recommended by a coroner's jury in connection with the racket deaths of Jack Palmer and Antonio "Toti" Amaroso, alias Argenti, "big shots" in the local racket and sugar supply racket.
Palmer was shot to death as he stood talking to a friend last October 7, and Amaroso's body was found wrapped in Patton township, soaked blanket in the early morning. Extortives told the jury they traced Spellen's movements to within a short time of the two killings. He was said to have been a "silent" partner with the two victims in the yeast and sugar business.

SUIT FOR $10,000 FILED AGAINST TWO WHO CRASHED WAGON

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 28.—Suits for $10,000 for personal injuries and for a wagon demolished in an accident on the Perry highway last August 18, were filed today by Fred Meyer and Frank Meyer, of Lancaster township, against R. H. Stolz and Margaret Colbourne, both of Pittsburgh.
Fred Meyer declares he was driving to a mine for a load of coal, when an automobile owned by Stolz and driven by Margaret Colbourne in a reckless manner approached his wagon on the same side of the road and crashed into it, demolishing the vehicle.
Both the Meyers allege they were hurled to the pavement by the force of the impact, and sustained permanent injuries. In addition to the loss of the wagon, Fred Meyer is seeking redress for personal injuries, while his companion is seeking damages for injuries alone.

Livestockmen Of State Will Be Represented At Chicago's Exposition

International Livestock Show Opens In Chicago November 28

D. F. McDowell And Sons Of Mercer Will Send Breeds Of Sheep To Big Show

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Pennsylvania livestockmen are sending the finest representatives of 15 different breeds of farm animals, popular in that state, to the 1931 International Live Stock Exposition which opens here November 28 and will be in session for one week until December 5.

For eight full days and nights the judging times of this annual climax of the agricultural show season will be crowded with the Kings and Queens of the farm animal world contesting the championships of their kind. They will come from as far distant points as the Pacific Slopes, the Atlantic Seaboard, Canada, and the Southland.

Many Send Cattle

The St. Amour Company, Hereford breeders of Mortonville, Pa., will send nominations to the steer classes of this white faced breed of beef cattle. C. L. Taggart, of Washington, Pa., will exhibit in the Aberdeen, Angus cattle classes; Charles L. Brenneman and his eighteen year old daughter, Dorothy, of Volant, will show short-horn steers. Dorothy Brenneman's entry, which will be shown in the junior live stock feeding contest of the Chicago exposition. A special competition for farm boys and girls between the ages of ten and twenty years, was undertaken by a circuit of Pennsylvania fairs this year.

Two Pennsylvania exhibitors will send show flocks, representing six different breeds of sheep, to the show. D. F. McDowell and sons of Mercer, Pa., and the Pennsylvania State College. The Pennsylvania State College will also be represented in the swine competitions with 30 barrows that have been bred and developed in the State College farm.

A well known draft horse breeder of Pennsylvania, Frank B. Foster, of Phoenixville, will exhibit five percherons. His imported mare, Brigette, won the high honor of championship of the Percheron breed at the 1930 International show. Grant Cracksback and sons, of Valencia, will list two draft geldings.

Seek Honors

Of the 1930 farm boys and girls from 44 states and Canada who will contest for the year's final honors in the ranks of the continent's junior farmers, five will be from Pennsylvania.

The best samples of the Keystone State's 1931 harvest will be on view in the exhibition halls of the International Grain and Hay show, largest competitive crops display in the world, in which every agricultural section of the North American continent will be represented. It will include the winning samples of Australian grown wheat from their National show in Sydney, held last Easter.

Five students of the Pennsylvania State College, whose proficiency in judging livestock have won them a place on the college team to represent their state in the international inter-collegiate live stock judging contest, will travel to Chicago to compete in this event against aspirants from the leading state and provincial agricultural colleges of America. It will take place on the opening day of the exposition, Saturday, November 28.

GIRL ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE BY TAKING OF POISON

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28.—Anne Kuhar of Koyon, Pa., was in the hospital here today recovering from the effects of taking poison in an alleged suicide attempt.

Mrs. Frances Jesinski, the girl's employer, told police the girl threatened to take her life for the past several days. She was employed as a maid.

Ann was brought to the hospital by a party of three men and two girls with whom she was riding last night. They told police she swallowed two poison tablets while riding.

Anna was charged with disorderly conduct by police.

Co-Eds Divided On Girls Paying Half

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 28.—"Should the co-ed share the 'date bill' with her boy friend?"

Sentiment on that question is evenly divided at the Erie Center of the University of Pittsburgh. Three of six co-eds questioned voted yes and the other said "no."

"Of course, there's the tradition that the man should pay," thinks Edith Underwood. But in these days of depression I really believe it would be fair if the girls shared expenses with the fellows."

"Why should girls pay?" asks Miss Marie Smith. "Fellows have a chance to work and earn money; girls don't."

"Boys shouldn't ask girls for dates unless they are able to pay their way," asserts Miss Jean Stuart.

"I believe it would be fair enough for girls to pay half," declares Jane Cowan.

"In normal times, no," says Helen Burton. "When time are hard it's only fair for the girls to go fifty-fifty."

"No" was all Ruth DeMatteo said. Asked why, she answered: Just because."

And that's sufficient answer for any girl.

Pittsburgh Man Taken Back To Serve His Time

Man Serving 25-Year Sentence In Oklahoma, Free Since 1923, Is Re-Arrested

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28.—Earl Kratz, alias "Jones," who escaped from the Oklahoma state penitentiary to slip into the routine life of a happily married father and husband to a wife who knew nothing of his past, Friday was on his way back to prison to finish a 25-year bank robbery sentence.

Alex Watson, six-foot penitentiary guard, attired in typical western garb, arrived here and took the prisoner in tow. Kratz will resume serving his sentence where he suddenly left off in 1923, Watson said.

The prisoner served only three years of the sentence for a bank holdup in Enid which netted the gang less than $3,000. Kratz and four other prisoners escaped after shooting a guard, according to Watson.

Kratz leaves behind a wife and child who are pledged to wait for him when his sentence is finished.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

In spite of the fact that it has been many years since the borough of Mahoningtown became the seventh ward of the city, the name of Mahoningtown still clings to that section of the city. Something of the early history of the district will no doubt interest many people.

William Simpson is said to have come from Butler county in the spring of 1836 and became the first settler, as well as the first storekeeper in Mahoningtown. The town was laid out in the spring of 1836 by William Hayes and Benjamin Darlington of Pittsburgh. These parties owned the five hundred acre tract of Donation Lands patented to the heirs of Colonel William Crawford for his military service. It included the site of Mahoningtown. Mr. Simpson lived west of Mahoningtown proper on the Mt. Jackson road. Samuel Vandivort also from Butler county, settled in the place in September 1837. He was a hatter by trade and followed the business for some ten or twelve years after his arrival. Franklin Alexander, a blacksmith from Pittsburgh came about the same time.

Henry Mace, a tailor from east of the Mountains of Pennsylvania, came about 1839. John Simpson, a brother of William, came in 1838 and settled on a farm southwest of the town. He laid out a small addition to the place on the south side of "Cross-Out Canal" about 1840. The Crosscut Canal was started in 1836 and finished about 1838. It connected with the Beaver division of the Pennsylvania canal, and extended up the Mahoning river into the state of Ohio, making connections with the canal system of that state, and opening a direct route to the city of Cleveland on Lake Erie. Archibald Newell settled in Mahoningtown in 1844 and was engaged in the mercantile business until his death, the business being continued by his sons. He came to America from Ireland in 1837 and lived in Crawford county for a few years previous to settling in Mahoningtown.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT 1732 GEORGE 1799 WASHINGTON?

Was Washington much of a farmer?

Did Washington raise livestock?

ANSWERS

He was the outstanding farmer of his time. His farm was really our first agricultural experiment station. He developed the idea of crop rotation and experimented with fertilizers.

Yes—all kinds. He was always trying to improve the breeds of cattle, horses, sheep and hogs.

Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn says the world is still in the making—that creation isn't over with. We always suspected it and it doesn't look as though it ever would be finished.—The Jamesville Daily Gazette.

FAMILY DINNER
ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hogue of Ellwood City entertained their children and grand children at a Thanksgiving dinner at their home on Hazen avenue Thursday. There were 40 guests from New Castle, Moravia, and this city present at the time.

Entertainment At Wurtemberg

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 28.—To an audience that completely filled the Wurtemberg United Presbyterian church last evening, an old-fashioned entertainment consisting of songs and recitations in vogue fifty years ago were enjoyed many times. The program was enlivened by musical selections by Francis Kirk and Herbert Harper, Mrs. Charles Teece, Mrs. Roy Stimmet, Mrs. Samuel Shaffer and Miss Helen Blose.

Miss Bettie Caughey of Glassport, who is visiting at the home of her nephew, Rev. J. E. Caughey, and who has been an invalid for many years was wheeled to the vestrum, where she gave a reading entitled, "Aunt Hulda's Pumpkin Pie," which conveyed a moral applicable to everyone.

A playlet entitled, "Please Pass the Cream" given by Miss Margaret Parker and Edward M. Steed convulsed the audience from start to finish with laughter.

A monologue, "Why Shoe Clerks Go Crazy" given by Mrs. Victor Koach in her inimitable way was well received.

A pantomime, "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet" given by Marian Teece and Amy Kettler and sang by Adah Graham and Andreye Deemer was unique in that the characters were costumed in stylish wedding clothes of seventy-five years ago.

"Comin' Thru the Rye," a pantomime given by Adah Graham and Mrs. Earl Hollerman portrayed the costumes of the Scottish clan.

The proceeds are to be used for the missionary pledge of the Y. P. C. U.

Pupils' Classification Discussed In Survey

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 28.—How the various pupils are grouped and classified is the main theme of this installment of Superintendent Smith's Survey Report of the Ellwood City Public Schools. Age grouping receives some discussion also.

Chapter 4. Classification of Pupils Ability Grouping

All pupils in grades 1-8 inclusive in the Ellwood City Schools are classified homogeneously with the exception that where there are not enough pupils in a grade for two actions. The grouping is made according to the ability of the pupils to progress, as measured by intelligence tests and teachers' judgment. The grade groups are designated by adding an exponent to the letter which designates the semester, for example, a pupil in grade 1B1 would be in the highest group of pupils doing in the first half of the sixth grade work. The course of study is modified to meet the needs of the different groups so that minimum essentials are provided for all groups. Minimum essentials plus a moderate amount of enrichment for the average groups, and minimum essentials plus a greatly enriched course for the brightest groups. This arrangement of differentiated instructional materials provides that all groups complete the essential work of each grade during the school year at the same rate. Pupils are transferred from one group to another, on the basis of the progress made in a given group. They may be transferred at any time, but they are usually transferred at the end of grade periods.

The following principles of classification have been kept in mind in Ellwood City:

1. "Classification should be made as a means of decreasing individual differences so that the teacher may reasonably expect the pupils of a given class to profit from instruction without a great amount of re-teaching." When classes are unselected, individual differences may be so great that class instruction is not economical. The removal of the extreme deviates from a given group simplifies the work of the teacher with respect to the range of materials to be prepared and lessens the number of ability groups which she must form within her class to carry on efficient instruction. Classification also facilitates the motivation of pupils, since it tends to equalize competition among them. Moreover in unsorted groups, many pupils are handicapped unduly by attempting to keep pace with the group.

2. "Any classification should always be considered a temporary adjustment, subject to modification on

GIRL SCOUTS

Taken In Troop
Four new Girl Scouts were investigated in Troop 4 Friday evening at the meeting in the Third United Presbyterian church. The scouts are: Pat Chapman, Betty Evans, Esther Fry and Patty Montgomery.

Another guarantee of peace is the fact that Mr. Borah can't do anything about the European situation except talk.

On the basis of the progress made by a given pupil. Transfer from group to group should be possible at any time. This means ample flexibility in the organization of the school, and a tolerance on the part of the pupils and the staff. However, transfer should always be conditioned by the ability of a pupil to maintain the pace expected. Any classification should be considered in the light of an experiment, the results of which are to be checked from time to time.

3. "The bases of classification should be such as will make for greater homogeneity in personnel than that obtained by chance sorting."

Sorting may result in homogeneous grouping, but the chances are that it will not. Whatever criterion is employed in sorting it should effect a greater homogeneity than chance. Mentally Retarded Pupils.

Ellwood City has taken a progressive step in her educational program in providing special training for some of the children who cannot profit by ordinary instruction. A table showing the results obtained from the Cile Classification Tests (There are 67 pupils or about 3% of the total school population including grades 4-12 inclusive who are classified as feeble minded and need special education. This percentage is some what higher than is usually found. A normal distribution of scores in an unselected group of children will approximate the following: About 60 per cent normal, 20 per cent above normal, and 20 per cent below normal. Of those rated below normal, approximately 13 per cent will have intelligence quotients between 80 and 90, 6 per cent between 70 and 80, and the remaining 1 percent below 70. It is rarely possible for many of the sub-normal group to make normal progress in regular schools.

One special class is conducted in the Hartman school. The class enrolls eighteen boys and girls. This is the limit set for such a class by the state department. Ellwood City, instead of having a single room for mentally deficient children, needs at least four or five rooms. The special room is well equipped for manual work. The children seem happy and contented. The teacher in charge has had years of experience and has had special preparation for orthopedic classes.

Age Grade Table.
It is of interest to note that the age grade situation of Ellwood City as compared with other selected districts and for Pennsylvania is comparatively high, especially in the percentage of pupils of normal and underage.

PROTECT YOUR CREDIT

It's possible to avoid paying bills promptly, to keep "putting off" without inconvenience... for a time. But sooner or later you are bound to feel the results of such willful negligence. You may get in a "tight hole" you may be forced to ask for a needful extension of credit, and then have a refund. No man who has ever been caught in such a situation will ever forget it.

It's far better to arrange your financial affairs to permit your paying bills on time. Such promptness will prove to people you deal with that you are trustworthy. Then, if occasion should ever arise... these merchants will be glad to "ride you over".

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

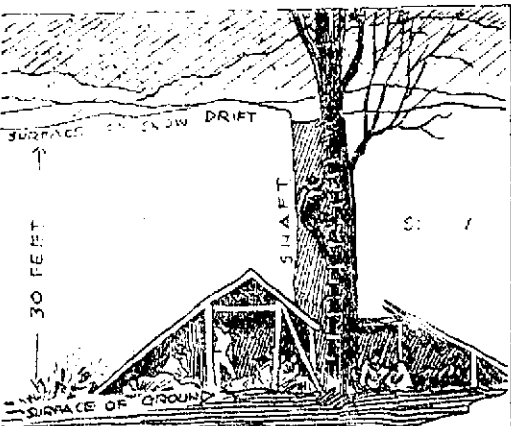

Gold Rush Days—6. The Donner Party

THE GOLD SEEKERS SETTING OUT ACROSS THE PLAINS IN THE SPRING OF '49 WERE WELL AWARE OF THE MANY PERILS THAT LAY AHEAD OF THEM. FRESH IN THEIR MINDS WAS THE HARROWING EXPERIENCE OF THE DOHNER PARTY THAT HAD STARTED FOR CALIFORNIA IN 1846, TWO YEARS BEFORE THE DISCOVERY OF GOLD. THE DOHNER PARTY CONSISTING OF 87 MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN HAD SEPARATED FROM A LARGE CARAVAN AT FORT BRIDGER TO SEEK A BETTER ROUTE TO THE COAST. BEFORE THEY REACHED THE SIERRAS WINTER OVERTOOK THEM. ON THE SHORE OF A SMALL LAKE IN NEVADA THEY BUILT RUDE HUTS. HOWLING BLIZZARDS DESCENDED UPON THEM. IT SNOWED FOR DAYS.

ICY GALES PILED UP TREMENDOUS SNOW DRIFTS IN THE LITTLE, BOWL-LIKE VALLEY, BURYING THE SHACKS TO A DEPTH OF 30 FEET AND MORE. ALL WINTER THE EMIGRANTS WERE IMPRISONED DEEP UNDER THE SNOW, SUFFERING INCREDIBLE HARDSHIPS.

IN THE SPRING A RESCUE PARTY FROM SUTTER'S FORT FINALLY FOUND THEM. THIRTY-NINE HAD DIED OF HUNGER, EXPOSURE AND DISEASE, WHILE THE SURVIVORS WERE REDUCED TO MERE SKELETONS. © 1931, BY J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

NEW YORK STOCKS

Downward Course
In Stock MarketBy W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The leading industrial and railroad stocks at the week-end followed the irregularly downward course which has been in progress with little interruption since Monday.

With United States Steel, New York Central, American Can and other speculative favorites dropping 1 to 3 points, and recording new low prices for the bear market, little support was in evidence for the active new low for the active shares in other sections of the list.

Selling orders poured out from the first tip of the opening bell and stocks sagged gradually but steadily. New York Central was again the outstanding weak spot in the rail group, falling off about 3 points to 28, and stretching its losses for the week as a whole to about 15 points. Union Pacific and Atchafalpa lost about 2½ points.

United States Steel rallied fractionally in the first period, but was unable to hold its position in the face of another deluge of selling. The stock broke to a new low around 53. American Can lost about 2 points and Consolidated Gas a point. The Automobile, Copper and Oil stocks made a better showing, but the general trend of prices was downward.

Tardiness in the industrial recovery, further complications in the war debt situation; war in the Far East; a further slump in railroad net income and the continued weakness in railroad bonds were the principal factors inducing liquidation and a sharp selling of stocks in the week-end market.

Selling of the rails accompanied the publication of the October income statements, which show a sharp falling off from the same month last year. The first 64 roads reported to the interstate commerce commission showed total income of $55,831,000, against $95,691,000 in the corresponding month of 1930.

New York Central was under pressure until the final bell, and closed nearly 3 points lower, at 28½. New Haven preferred lost 2 points at 65 and the common was down 1½ at 23½. Union Pacific lost 2½ points at 30. Baltimore and Ohio was down 1½ at 23½; Atchafalpa down 1½ at 28½; Southern Pacific down 1½ at 31.

United States Steel sustained a net loss of 1½ points at its final price of 53½. This is a net loss of 7½ points for the holiday week. American Can lost 1½ and finished the session at 67½, down 1½; Western Union at 50, down 1½; General Motors at 24½, down 1½; Chrysler at 14, down 1½; Auburn Auto at 102, up ½.

British Court Ace and Bride

Evidently H. W. "Bunny" Austin, England's outstanding tennis player, is as adept at courting as he is at playing on the courts. For "Bunny" has acquired a wife with his experience, and here the happy bride is emerging from the Hempstead parish church, London, after the ceremony. Austin's attractive bride is the former Phyllis Konstam, movie actress.

Hoovers Lead Sale of Seals

President and Mrs. Hoover are shown on the White House lawn as they purchased the first of the 1931 tuberculosis fund Christmas seals from little Joie-Lou Berlinger, five-year-old granddaughter of the late Emily Berlinger, and David Witcover. Millions of the seals are sold annually around Christmas time to provide funds for the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis throughout the nation.

Vindicated

Mrs. Emily Roberts Cobb, former actress, and widow of Justin L. Cobb, Jr., is pictured in her home at Mansfield, Mass., after she had been cleared of suspicion of having slain her husband. Grilled by police while suffering from injuries which she says were inflicted by her mate, Mrs. Cobb steadfastly denied she shot her husband to death. Her claim that he committed suicide was eventually upheld.

Fights Arrest

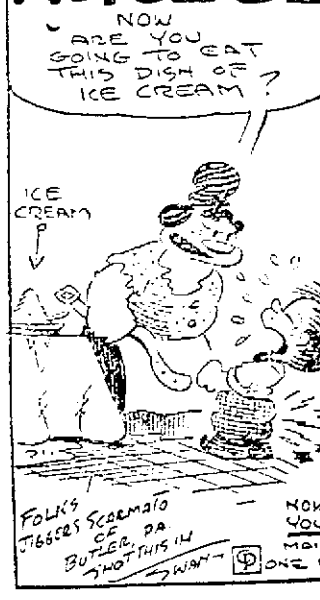

The Rev. Paul Noyes, who was recently arrested in Boston Common for feeding the poor of the city without a permit, thus violating a city ordinance. He says he will fight the charges, maintaining that the feeding of the poverty-stricken is a religion with him. As a result, he has refused to promise authorities that he will halt his merciful work.

Mrs. Debie Stanford, of Houston, Texas, owns a flying school which caters to women only.

The fastest speed ever recorded by a pigeon in a race was 3:17 yards per minute.

FRANK MERRIWELL'S SCHOOLDAYS

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot Explains Woman's Side In Economic Situation

Wife Of Pennsylvania's Governor Says Economic War Is Sexless

Everyone Must Help—Expresses Belief In Her Husband's Program

By JOSEPHUS A. LOFTIS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 27.—There is no sentimental side to the economic depression now gripping the nation—it is a sexless, hard-fact proposition in which women, as well as men, have no particular part to play.

Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, wife of Pennsylvania's governor, made this assertion in an exclusive interview with International News Service today.

Mrs. Pinchot not only disposed of the mythical "woman's part" in the depression, but declared the problem of unemployment relief must be met by both state and national governments assuming a fair share of the burden and by organized charities as well.

Believes in Relief
Mrs. Pinchot pointed out that a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature, called by her governor, is now laboring toward a huge state appropriation for unemployment relief because the crisis cannot be met by voluntary contributions alone.

Referring to federal aid, Mrs. Pinchot said she believes Congress will undertake a relief program, probably along the lines advocated by William Randolph Hearst, such as his proposed $5,000,000 federal bond issue, the fund to be used for public works in providing work for the jobless.

She feels also that the government could raise money for relief through an increase in the federal income tax. In this connection she remarked:

"I strongly advocate such a procedure, particularly with reference to the higher brackets of the income tax. This government has the responsibility of seeing that the people least able to bear the burden shall not be left to hold the bag."

Should Plan Ahead
Mrs. Pinchot condemned the passive attitude of people who believe booms and recessions occur inevitably and believe nothing can be done about it. Although economists show that depressions recur in cycles, she said:

"Believe national planning on a long-time program with the help of business leaders and the willing spirit of the public in general will go a long way in staying off these cyclical business recessions and flattening out the curves on the economist's graph."

At this point the interviewer suddenly recalled he had been instructed to "bring back a human interest story—one that women will be sure to read."

"And now," her interviewer proceeded confidently, "let's discuss the woman's angle, the part that average women should play."

Can't Isolate Women
"Oh, but we can't isolate women in any crisis, in politics or in anything else," came the smiling reply.

"That question is asked so often and it really is ridiculous, isn't it?" She paused for a moment, then resumed:

"I might as well try to answer what is the position or duty of a fat man, or a man with blue eyes, in this or any other crisis. Both questions are based on a false assumption."

"Any assumption that segregates the woman—economically, politically, emotionally or in any respect—is absolutely false."

"You know, I have been asked many times what the woman's position in politics should be. My attitude toward that question is that it is based on the premise that there is something for men to do and something else for women to do."

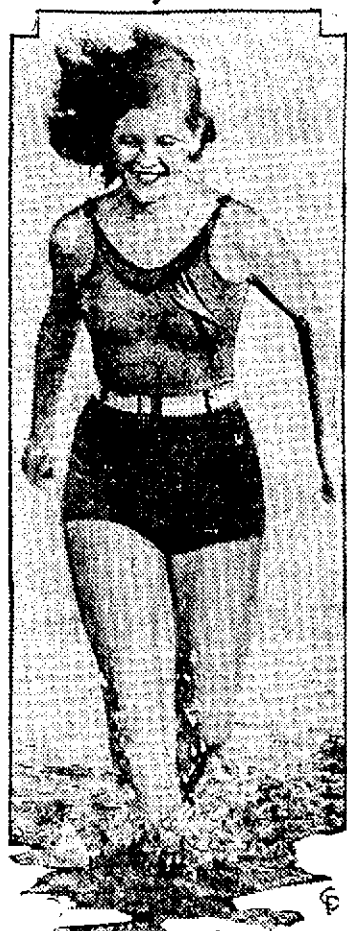

Women Are Helping
"Women's clubs can act in the same way," was her response. "If people haven't gotten over the idea that men and women are different factors in economics and politics, then they have missed what has taken place in the last few years."

Did she think that women, as club members, might be exhorted to form non-partisan groups to undertake the welfare and relief work?

"I believe no exhortation is necessary," she observed. "They already are doing that work and will continue to do it."

The United States government as such has never borrowed money from the British government.

Balmy Boston

If the unseasonably warm temperatures which Boston has been experiencing lately keep up, the Flub City will become a greater rendezvous for those seeking a balmy climate in the usually frigid winter months than either Florida or California. For instance, here's Helen Nelson enjoying a dip in the sea, near Boston, on one of the late November days when the mercury climbed above 70.

Hunters Leave For Mex Run

Dr. Jay Reed and Wayne Stitzinger left last evening for Mex Run in Clearfield county, where they will put their hunting camp in preparation for the opening of the deer season next week. They will be joined today by Ernest Stitzinger.

Others in the party who will leave Sunday and Monday include Dr. R. J. Robinson, Dr. P. E. Eakin, Ed Wilson, Dr. Burr Rogers and Leslie Brindle of this city and P. W. Bartholomew of Franklin. "Bill" Kise will leave to join the party on Tuesday.

JUDGE CHAMBERS AT CROTON CHURCH
Sunday at 3 p. m. the men and boys of the Croton Methodist church and their friends will assemble in the auditorium of the church at which time Judge Chambers of the Lawrence county courts will make the address. This will mark the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Brotherhood.

Sunday evening at 7:30 Rev. C. S. Joshua will give his final sermon on commandments, ending the series with "Ten Tropic Commandments."

Nonpareil Club Members To Leave For Hunting Trip

Members Hope To Bag Their Limit Of Deer And Other Seasonable Game

Members of the Nonpareil Hunting club have completed all plans to leave the city Monday morning for the camp of the club on Sterling run in Cameron county. The members of this club are all enthusiastic big game hunters and hope to bring back their limit of deer and other seasonable game.

The club has an ideal location and a camp that is second to none in the section in which it is located.

Play Rehearsals Make Progress

Teachers Preparing For Play To Be Given For School Children's Benefit

The rehearsals for "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh" are bringing the play to the highest degree of perfection. This is the play to be given by the teachers at the Washington auditorium for the benefit of the school children's relief fund.

This comedy will afford an evening of laughter to those who attend. The action centers on the visit of Mrs. de Salles, an English lady, and her two daughters, Violet and Adelaide, otherwise Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh to the Long Island country home of Justin Rawson, a millionaire. Violet, the youngest daughter, is engaged to Anthony Rawson, and the visit is to win the approval of both families.

Plenty of action follows when Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh, the formal and sophisticated English lady, meets Peter Swallow, the tongue-tied salesman, formerly from Missionary Loop, Indiana.

Anthony Rawson portrays the rich young man who makes love to the maids and yet is engaged to the polite, refined English girl. Geoffrey, the other son, has a great love for the farmer's life and is so repulsed by his father, but in the end wins the beautiful Violet from his brother. As for the history of the de Salles family, one and let Peter Swallow tell you in his mimical way.

Tickets may be procured from any teacher of the public schools and also at Paisley's drug store.

Sons Of Veterans Hold Good Meeting

Make Plans To Take A Crowd To Youngstown Tuesday Evening

A well attended meeting of Oscar L. Jackson camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans was held last evening in the Sons of Union Veterans hall in the city building. Plans were considered for taking a crowd to Youngstown on next Tuesday evening to a meeting of Baldwin camp of that city.

Plans were also made for a get-together movement of the members after the regular meetings for social and general good time purposes.

John Hughes, a former very active member who is now located in a sanatorium in Ohio, where he is taking treatment, was present at the meeting. He is settling along as well as could be expected.

Youth Confesses Killing Woman

Warren F. Pope, 21, Held In New Hampshire Confesses Killing Salt Lake Woman

(International News Service)

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 28.—At the request of Salt Lake City authorities, officials of the Portsmouth naval prison Friday forwarded by air mail the alleged confession of Warren F. Pope, 21, in which, it was claimed, he said he murdered Mrs. Dorothy Dexter Mormeister, wife of a well known Salt Lake City physician.

Pope, alias of Frank Webster, was brought here on November 9 to serve a two year sentence for desertion. He confessed to the crime before three officials of the naval prison here, Lieutenant Colonel J. A. Russell, U. S. M. C., commanding officer of the prison; Captain F. R. Snow, U. S. M. C., and Chief Marine Gunner Charles B. Lorin.

In the document, it was alleged, Pope confessed to the killing of Mrs. Mormeister, aided by a companion. After the killing, the confession said, he drove an automobile over her body several times. He also confessed, prison authorities said, to shooting a Rock City, gasoline station proprietor in a holdup in that city.

Authorities at Washington stepped into the matter by sending a telegram to Lieutenant Colonel Russell, to make no further official statements in the case until advised by the navy department.

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The depression has lifted the panhandling profession into a prosperity it never knew in the gaudy days of '28. The field is crowded. It is true, but public sympathy, fanned by unprecedented appeals for unemployment relief, does not discriminate along Broadway between the genuinely distressed and the professional dime-moother. Police will tell you that those who really need help seldom beg for it.

Statistics showing an average daily take of $30 for the city's mendicants will show sharply up for the current year. And panhandlers who once were timid and down-cast now boldly invade restaurants, speakshouses and apartment houses.

Last night three applicants for charity evaded the desk clerk in my building and rang my bell.

One of them was a pretty young girl selling roses to "provide for a sick mother"; another was a gentleman with a suspiciously theatrical bearing demanding a meal.

A third was a wobbly-eyed professional who wanted to play me a tune on his guitar—for, significantly, a quarter.

Perhaps any or all of these people deserved help. I incline to doubt it—and in one case I could spot the dyed-in-the-wool virtues. In restaurants now, when a quarrel sides up to a table asking for aims it is with the arrogant self-assurance of a top-society air of successful salesmen.

My title goes to the hospital tills.
